It's sometime impossible to thank a teacher.
A student cannot hope in anyway to repay that person in full except by proving he has made the effort of exhibiting what he has learned. I have had a wonderful

Mr. Brodin,
 You're a great person to be around. I admire your ability to teach us as much as you're a very funny man, and not a most intelligent person. I've really enjoyed being in your classes and I hope to get a lot more out of you next year. Don't change your style and keep on tellin' your jokes. student life

Blue skies and school activities greet students as September rolls in Brilliant sunshine intertwined with a gentle breeze ushered in spicy September as last year's memories became, once again, a part of this year's dreams.

Like a glass image, events such as election of class officers, ID picture taking and personal photos seemed to reflect scenes of future expectations. To top it off, record-breaking crowds attended the Western Washington State Fair, as CP's populous received half a day off to "Do the Puyallup." A Welcome Assembly facilitated a warm atmosphere and generated enthusiasm for upcoming fall sporting events.

Conclusion of the month brought with it harsher winds of October and a more settled school environment.

Pastor Hayward of Christ Lutheran Church, gives an uplifting Invocation for the new year.

Warrior Power Forever! 1976-77 Warrior, Roland Bautista, shows the spirit needed in Clover Park's traditional mascot as he displays the symbolic costume and headdress at a fall sporting event.

With a special performance at the Puyallup Fair, Concert Band entertains those seeing the sights by playing familiar tunes and pep music, making the Western Washington Fair more enjoyable.

Ronnie Walters displays the talents needed in leadership as she expresses campaign points.

Showing off the hard work and creativity of it's makers, the Senior Class sign is carried onto the gym floor by various cheerstaffers and class officers, for 2 - bits competition. Raising the voices and lifting the spirits of upperclass members, this green and gold banner leads the class of 1977 to victory.

Eager to learn of her child's progress, a concerned parent, discusses class work with Mr. Donald Drottboom at Back to School Night held in October to familiarize parents with Clover Park's curriculum.

Displaying an array of many different, unique, artistic styles, these creative examples of pumpkin carving reflect the talents of their creators. They all play an important role in the annual pumpkin carving contest sponsored by the Art Club, which awards owners of the most creative, and humorous entries.

that you have Taught me. I will

Filled with the thrill of victory, Mike Martin expresses his excitement after scalping the Braves.

Last signs of an Indian summer faded away and died under a blanket of clouds as warm weather yielded to rain.

October began with an 8-0 victory for the Warrior football team over cross-town rival, Lakes. Students found their chance to "Boogie Down" when Student Council and Afro-American Club sponsored football game-victory dances.

During mid-month, college-bound seniors attended a College Conference at the University of Puget Sound.

Teachers and administrators prepared for parents as they set up classrooms for the annual Back-to-School Night.

The pumpkin carving contest and Campus Life Mystery Mansion projected a trick or treat type atmosphere.

Smiling brightly, Shirley Gaidas gracefully models her own creation as her escorts look on.

Rallying support for the many fine CP athletes, dedicated cheerleaders and kazoomen get fired up as they march around campus gaining support from many rowdie Warrior fans.

Daffodil Princess selection highlights/No

This November, the driest since 1882, included a wide assortment of activities ranging from the Presidential elections to the State AAA football play-offs at Federal Way.

Daffodil princess selection, held in mid-November, saw Cathy Drake graciously accepting the title of CP's Daffodil Princess, after an evening of speeches and impromptu questions.

The musical groups of Clover Park opened their season with the fall concert, while CP's Thespians initiated the drama club's year with the performance of "Taming of the Shrew."

Winter class scheduling took place at the walk around as the Thanksgiving holiday concluded the eleventh month of our Bicentennial year with holiday cheer.

Putting their powerful defensive line into action, Clover Park's gridders tackle the Eagles in football action between the SPSL playoff teams in the state quarter finals held in November of FW's astroturf.

While Pedant (Alan Wintersteen) and Baptista (Bruce O'Neill) observe, Tranio (Brian Johnson)

shuns a threatening blow from Vincentio (Bill Derby) who is searching for his real son.

Using one of his techniques of discipline, Petruchio follows through in the taming of Catherine.

Because of inadequacy in preparing the country house for their returning master and new mistress, uneasy servants dare not breathe for fear of aggravating an already irritated Petruchio. Grumio (Bill Robinson), a personal lackey entrusted with all arrangements, hides under a table seeking to escape his master's ire.

Hard work on the Fall Play proves to be time well spent

Upon command of her spouse, Katherine returns to the banquet room, signifying submission to her husband by placing her hand beneath Petruchio's foot.

In what James Thurber called "the war between men and women," Clover Park Thespians presented a dramatic Shakesperian performance of "The Taming of the Shrew." Actors set in a romantic vision revolved around malely cunningness in their quests to win women of their desire. Lucentio (Mike Courts) and Hortensio (Robert Moore) strove for Bianca's (Shrine Park) hand, while her sister, intolerant Catherine (Maura Shea) remained unwilling to submit to any man. However, the slyness of Petruchio (Pat Beale) enabled marriage and finally submission of the Shrew.

Director, Mrs. Virginia Heidbreder and Assistant, Cleo Garcia succeeded in a controversial, yet realistic work of accomplishment.

Applying techniques of romancing, Lucentio and rival, Hortensio, serenade maiden Bianca.

Christopher Sly (Steve Wisher) wrestles with his supposed "wife" (Dan Estes) while maid (Debbie Tolbert) looks on knowing that in reality his "wife" is nothing more than the duke's manservant.

Perky CP Pepsters create clever skits to rally spirited cheers

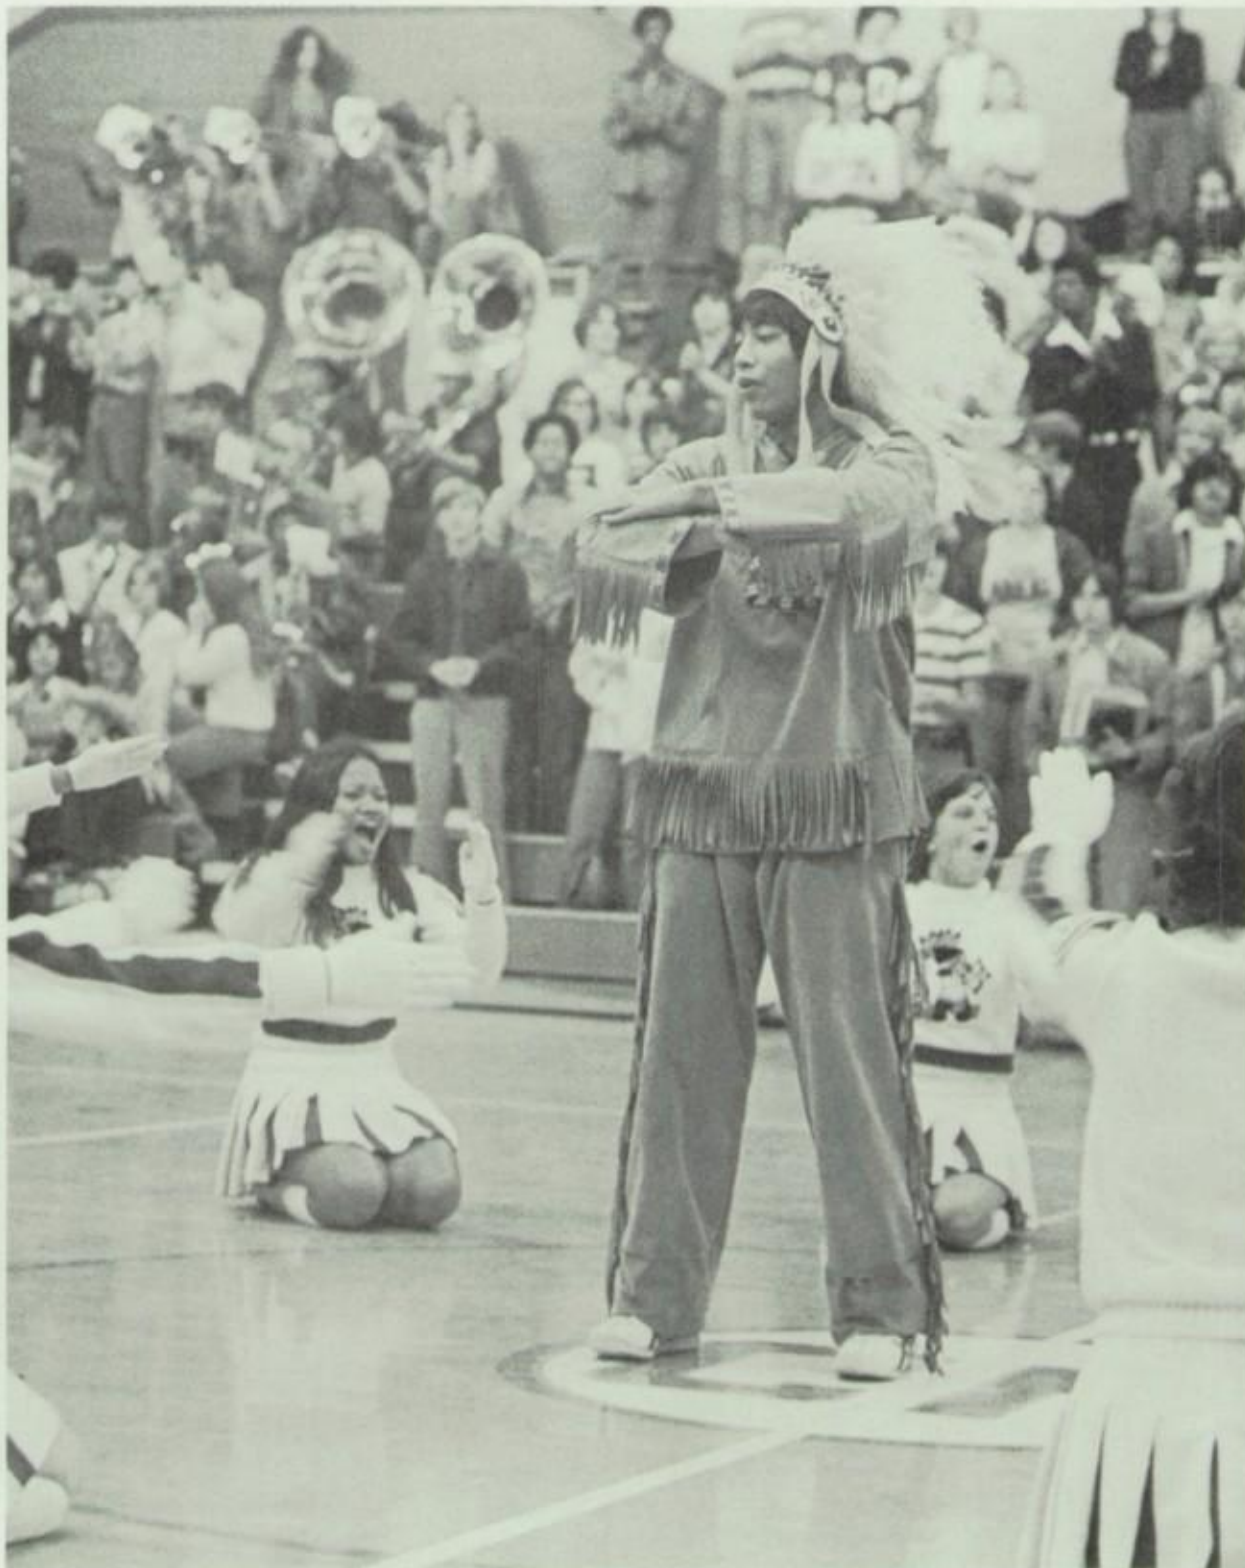

One gigantic "CP Howdie" to old and new arrivals opened the first Pep Assembly of the year.

Class competition for the Pep jug brought echoes of "two-bits" as each class strived to be heard above an uproar of spirit.

Pep Band enlivened participation of the student body with tunes of encouragement while the Drill Team executed a routine to the CP Fight Song.

Moments of praise and dedication highlighted a pep talk by coaches of various sports. Performances of comical skits described rival teams with light humor and cheerleaders added to the upshooting of inspiration.

"SP - IR - IT, Got Spirit?" Warrior fans replied with a loud "UH -HUH!"

Making his first appearance of the year at a pep assembly surrounded by the cheer staff, Clover Park's Warrior, Roland Bautista steps high and keeps up with the beat of the traditional dance.

Reliving early childhood talents, "Big" Jim Hadland and Susie Ross contend with fall sportsters.

Accepting the prizes from Drill Team's football raffle, Debbie Blucher receives a football autographed by each Warrior gridder and a free Tolo ticket from Drill Team Captain Beverly Maddox.

Displaying the typical driving moves of a Clover Park sophomore, Joanie Ristine, with Driver Education teacher Mr. Al Broeckel, quickly executes a right hand turn which results in a disaster.

Outrageously dressed in clownish-faced sheets as Federal Way Eagles, brave members of Clover Park's student body stumble with light footsteps to mimic the opponent's defensive line.

Concentrating on total group unity with Director Mr. James Hunt, the 1976-77 Warrior Pep Band envelops Clover Park's South Gym with a colorful music sound by playing a number entitled "The Horse" at an Autumn pep assembly.

The spirit rousing band made many special performances throughout the year.

Mark Sabo crowned Tolo King in 'Visions of Paradise'

"Visions of Paradise" silhouetted an evening of dine and dance as the Drill Team sponsored their annual Tolo on November 6.

Couples boogied and swayed to sounds of "Alexis" beneath the illuminated reflections of a heavenly atmosphere highlighted by a multi-colored sweeping rainbow that fell from a cloud amid rays of a ceiling mirror ball.

Photographer Dave Stolz captured memories on film with an ivy swing surrounded by sparkling stars.

With enthusiastic smiles, Tim Ohms and Diane Tuttle pose for the photographer.

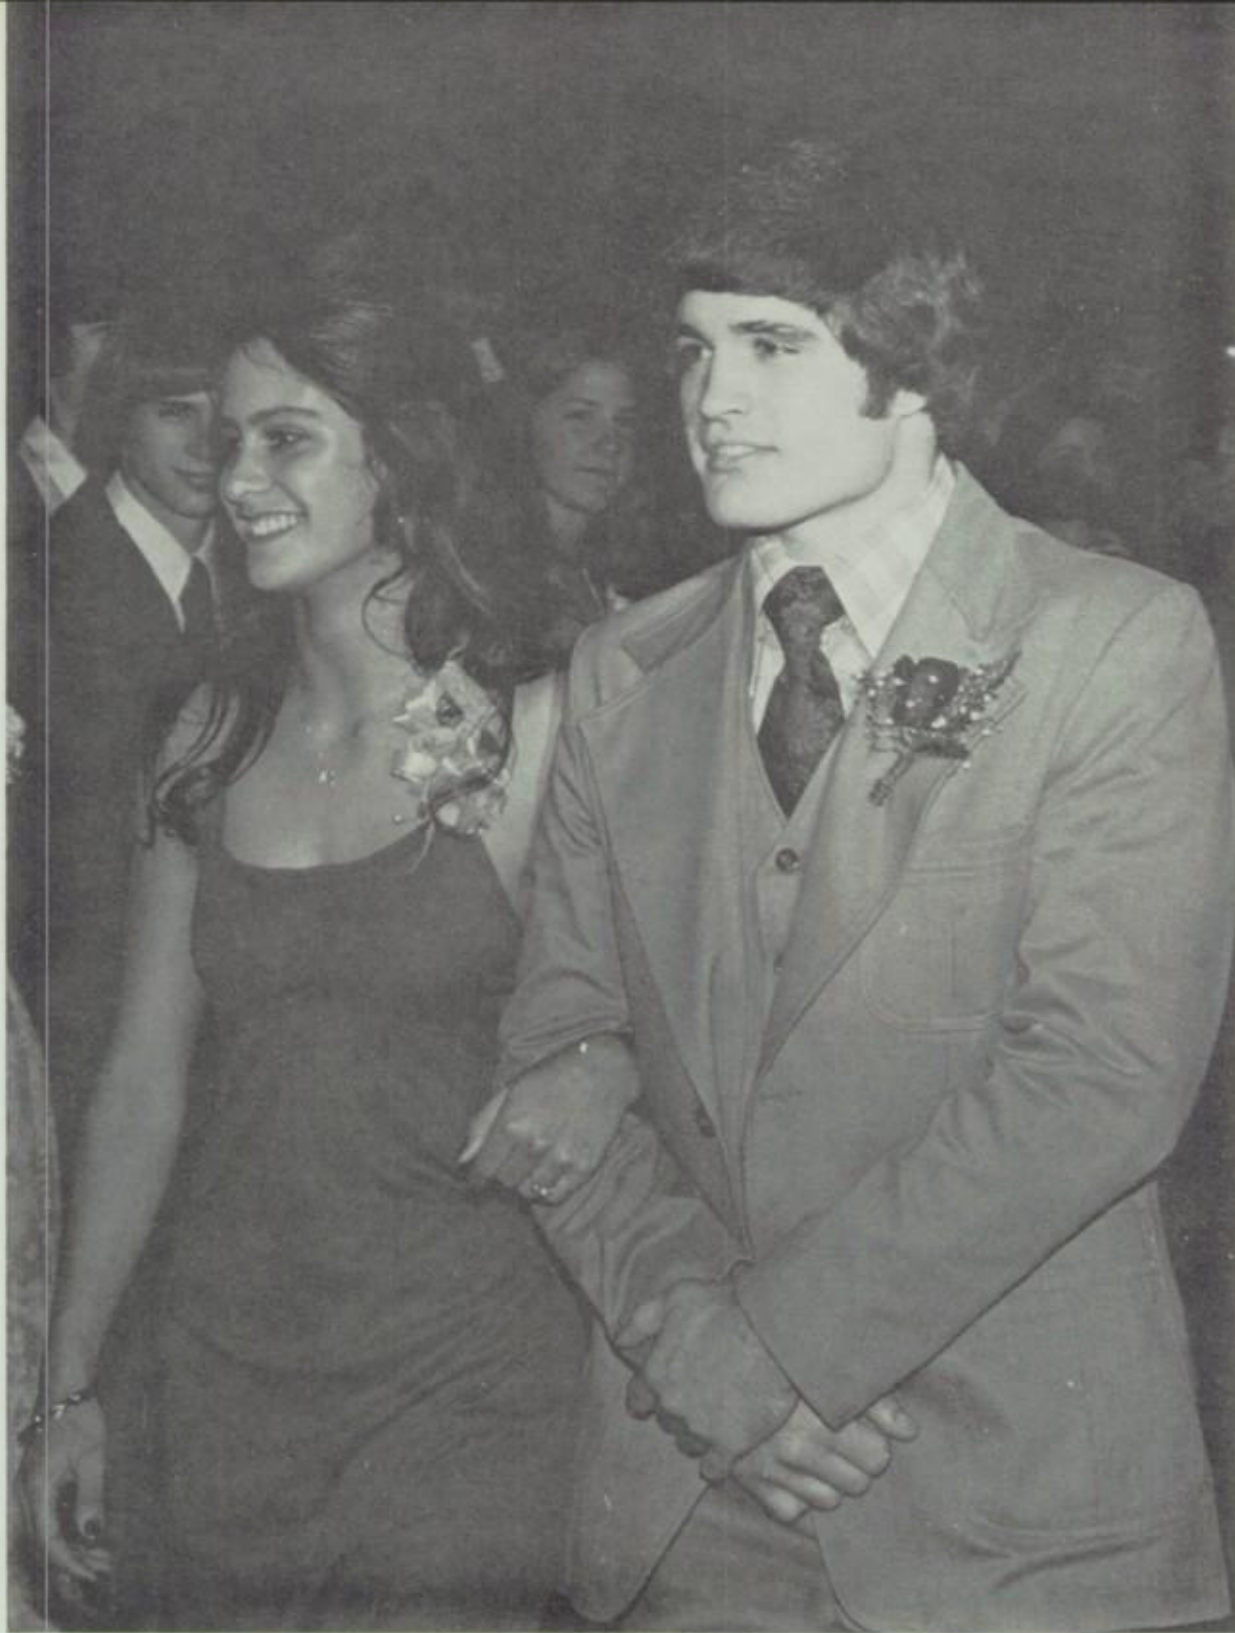

The newly crowned king of the 1976 Tolo, Mark Sabo and his date Tina Owen dance to the music of "Nights in White Satin." The crowning took place on November 6 at the Tolo.

Chaperones Mr. and Mrs. Austin Burch and Mrs. Ralph Elrod socialize over refreshments during CP's Tolo. The dance was in the North Gym and Drill Team made all the arrangements.

Continuing on a heavenly stroll amidst a traditional reception line, Carla Iafrate and her date, Tolo King nominee Scott Owen anxiously await the outcome of CP's Tolo court appointment.

Dressed for the occasion, patient Tolo participants stand in line waiting their turn for picture taking.

Serenity fills the air as Susie Worthington and Dave Pritchard glide among the other couples at the Tolo.

Junior Prince, John Deeter and escort April Frederick step into the spotlight.

Drill team member Tami Pearson breaks the suspense as she announces the royal Tolo court.

Spirit Week inspires school pep; adds joy, cheer to Christmas days

Giving a speech full of encouragement to Clover Parks football players, is the University of Washington Huskie's assistant coach, Skip Hall. This year's banquet, put on traditionally by Mrs. Rumbaugh and the CP Pep Club, honored outstanding players and celebrated the team's play-off berth achievement.

Pirouetting gracefully, Lorna Newton and Tacoma Ballet members dance to the Tacoma Symphony.

Saturating the Gym with melodious compositions, instrumentalists of the Tacoma Symphony accomplish a blend of sounds in their performance conveying their musical appreciation to students.

Melodies flow, as skillful flutists Laura Burns and Terri Morris are accompanied by the orchestra. Mr.

Snowless December commenced with the onset of a new trimester and the beginning of winter sports competition.

Five days of activity brightened up the campus as the Senior class sponsored "Spirit Week." Fund-raising events such as the Honor Society candy bar sale, ASB candy cane and horticulture plant sales added to the Christmas season.

Bringing a bit of culture as well as a touch of Yuletide cheer, the music groups put on their Christmas concert with harmonious tunes of the season while the Tacoma Symphony and Ballet presented themselves with a collection of subtle pieces and graceful motions.

December brought many occurrences and activities, as well as closed our 1976 Bicentennial year.

A harmonious effort in team strategy is made in this friendly competition inspiring the Choir-Band football game as the band hikes a play contributing to their march to a keynote victory of 28-20.

Completing a sale for Horticulture class, Steve Reeves carefully attends an assortment of plants.

Lack of January snow delays CP's Ski School opening

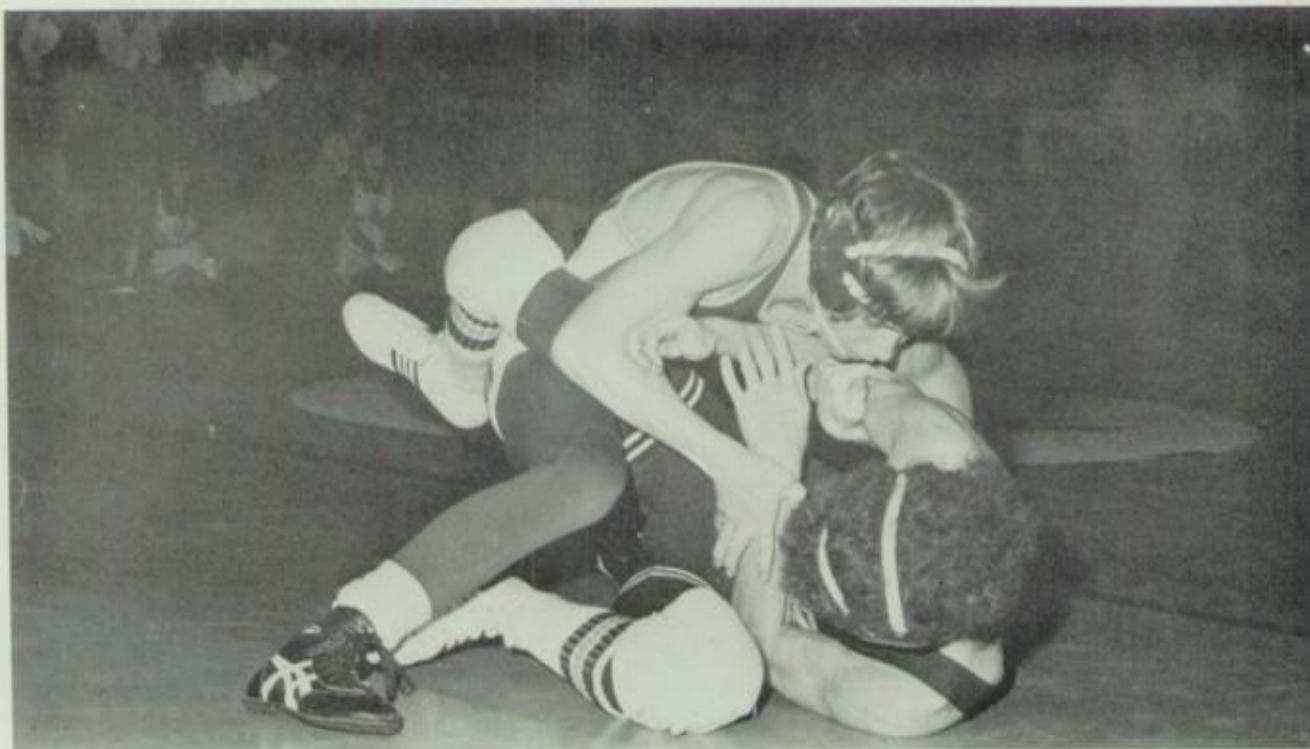

January started off cold and dry with little snow for the anxious skiers to exercise their new equipments resulting in ski school cancellations.

Traditional rivalry highlighted the sports programs as CP and Lakes confronted each other in two fighting team efforts - basketball and wrestling, Clover Park winning the latter.

The Girls' Basketball Team with their string of victories captured a berth in state playoffs and placed third in the South Puget Sound League.

On the national scene, the USA went through a period of transition as our 39th president began his first term in office. Exercising his leadership ability, President Jimmy Carter passed a state of emergency relief to many snowbound eastern states.

Directing Warrior offense, Delores Krumm represents CP in the West Central District playoffs.

Striving for a pin, Varsity Wrestler Dave Wheeler displays strength and determination as he leads the Warrior grapplers toward another victory and one step closer to the wrestling championship.

Holding the annual Thespian Initiation Dinner in early January, Adviser Mrs. Virginia Heidbreder.

President Richard Pichler, and select members welcome initiates into CP's Thespian Troupe 521.

Adding to a colorful halftime show, Kelly Rotchford bows to give onlookers a rippling formation.

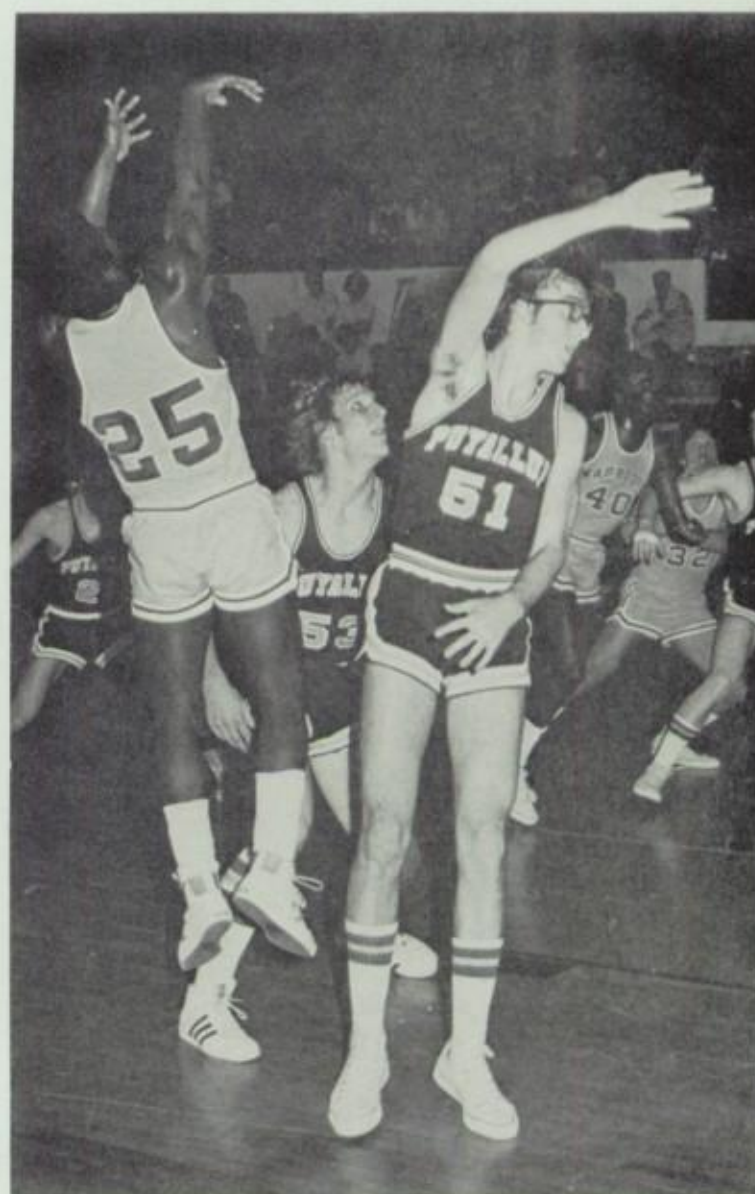

Expressing his opinions, sophomore Sergeant at Arms, Jim Troyer takes part in a January Representative Assembly meeting as he adds to a discussion focused on student involvement.

THINK SNOW! is the cry of Doug Skrivan as he takes a trial run on moistureless Tacoma ground, waiting for the snow to hit. Millions were ready for the slopes, but winter didn't arrive.

Showing excellent shooting form, Warrior Don Denman attempts to score two points for CP.

February "Rocked around the Clock" with a Student Council sponsored 50's Day Pep Assembly.

Decorations of Charlie Chaplin's and Laurel and Hardy plus music featuring the sounds of "Deuces Wild," set the stage for a "Night on Broadway" which themed the 1977 yearbook sponsored Klahowya dance.

Weeks of practice obtained ten superior ratings for members of Clover Park's Music Department at the annual solo ensemble contest.

Outdoor Education classes obtained educational values with a back to nature field trip visit to Northwest Trek. Preparations for third tri began with class sign-ups and the walk-around.

The month ended as CP's wrestling squad ranked as the top ten team in state with Pancho Dagan and Martin Stevens clinching individual first place finishes in their weight classes.

Arousing memories from the 50's, costumed cheerleaders conduct two bits competition during the Student Council sponsored Pep Assembly. This proved to be a highpoint of February activities.

Mr. Clean and the Grooms entertain Clover Park's student body as they liven a student council sponsored assembly modeled after high school life during the 50's with a wild rock and roll sound.

Working during third tri walk around, Laurie Coddington and Cheri Storer sign up students.

The featured band, "Deuces Wild," entertained the couples in attendance with a variety of melodies.

Conservation proved to be the key word in '77 as Americans experienced harsh weather conditions, a nationwide boycott on coffee and ever increasing prices on consumer goods.

Ushered into the White House, in January, Americans saw a change in authority with Jimmy Carter while Gerald Ford stepped down from the presidency.

Appointed to the Carter Cabinet, congressman Brock Adams achieved recognition for Washington State as Secretary of Transportation.

A record-breaking television audience of over 9 million viewed the controversial sage "Roots," as international affairs found OPEC controlling oil prices and history continued on its ever-changing course.

Absorbing attention from millions of TV viewers, Roots, based on Alex Haley's novel, compelled many to reexamine racial attitudes in a historic account of Kunte Kinte's triumphs and defeats.

After years of preparing for the post of Secretary of Transportation, Carter appointed him to that spot.

Spring showers usher in a downpour of activities

Spring brought many things, including the end of a winter long drought and the beginning of a rainy season.

Many activities took place at Clover Park during spring. Sports held their opening games while drama students performed in a One Act Play Festival. The Music Department provided entertainment for students and parents at a Spring Choral Concert. A special performance for students and faculty members by Rocky Mountain College Students added song and humor to an assembly honoring CP's first place wrestling team. Talented students participated in an annual Variety Show sponsored by Clover Park's Music Department, this years theme being, "A Night of Nonsense and Nostalgia." Lettermen's Club held a Polynesian Spectacular featuring native dances from tropical islands around the world. Students danced in a casual atmosphere at the Senior class sponsored "Sadie Hawkins Dance," to the disco beat of DJ John Myers.

Imported especially for the Variety Show from South of the border, five latin percussionists, Bob

Henley, Dave Hoover, Chuck Bronson, George Blas, and Salie Mungia perform 'Latin Resume.'

One Act Play winners, Lisa Lundeen, Maura Shea, Debbie Tolbert, Sally Carman, Marthe Petah, Chris

Hunter, Otis Sounders, Steve Wisher, Alan Wintersteen and Bill Derby display their trophies.

Accompanying rock star Elton John alias Brenden Maye, four lovely dancers add their touch to the hit 'Crocodile Rock' during the Choral Dept. sponsored 'Night of Nonsense and Nostalgia.'

Projecting exuberance, the Rocky Mountain Band from Montana combines easy listening music and light humorous skits providing a relaxing break for CP students from studies. Promoting the student's enthusiasm, their hillbilly style is accented in this performance.

Entertaining students with their humor, members of the Rocky Mountain Band put on a unique show.

Reflecting a mellow mood, the Powder Company, an all-girl swing choir which practices after school, move softly while they perform a familiar ballad, "Feelings" during the Choral Concert.

Coach Talley receives appointment to Clover Park Administrative staff

In our administrative nucleus, changes have occurred as Mr. Hollister Gee stepped down from his position of Athletic Director to yield the title to Mr. Darrold Talley. Mr. Gee's previous duties included supervising sports activities.

The year started with a new administrator, Mr. Larry Carlson, who took over some of the extracurricular functions and business for the Administrative office.

Mr. Carlson came to Clover Park from Lochburn Junior High where he acted as the activities coordinator, yearbook and newspaper adviser. This year he performed the job of administrative assistant for the North Building.

Executing the duties of his new job, Mr. Larry Carlson takes part in an Administrative meeting.

Postulating current school problems, Mr. Gee listens as thoughts are put forth by his colleagues.

Discussing school business matters, Clover Park's Administrators, Andrew Pazaruski, Hollister Gee, and Principal, Donald Morris meet to decide on important upcoming student involved events.

Contemplating another matter of strategic importance, school board members at Clover Park's school district meeting relate ideas. They are From Left: Rowl

School Board resolves settlements while setting goals

Making it a point to introduce his views during a discussion of concepts of considerable importance,

Harry Sannerud addressed those concerned with affairs dealing with school board topics.

Mr. Harold J. Mulholland after serving a nine year term on the Clover Park School Board, retired from office in December. Mr. Mulholland wanted to devote more time to his position as Director of Juvenile Services at Remann Hall.

The Board continued to solve routine problems confronting the district, one being a proposition for a new bond issue for the construction of a new Clover Park High School.

Clover Park School District completed purchase of an educational television station and oversaw final proposed plans for an Industrial Art's addition to Lakes High School.

Monthly board meetings, welcoming citizens of the district to attend, devoted time to listen to problems, ideas, questions and discussion on various subject matter from the public.

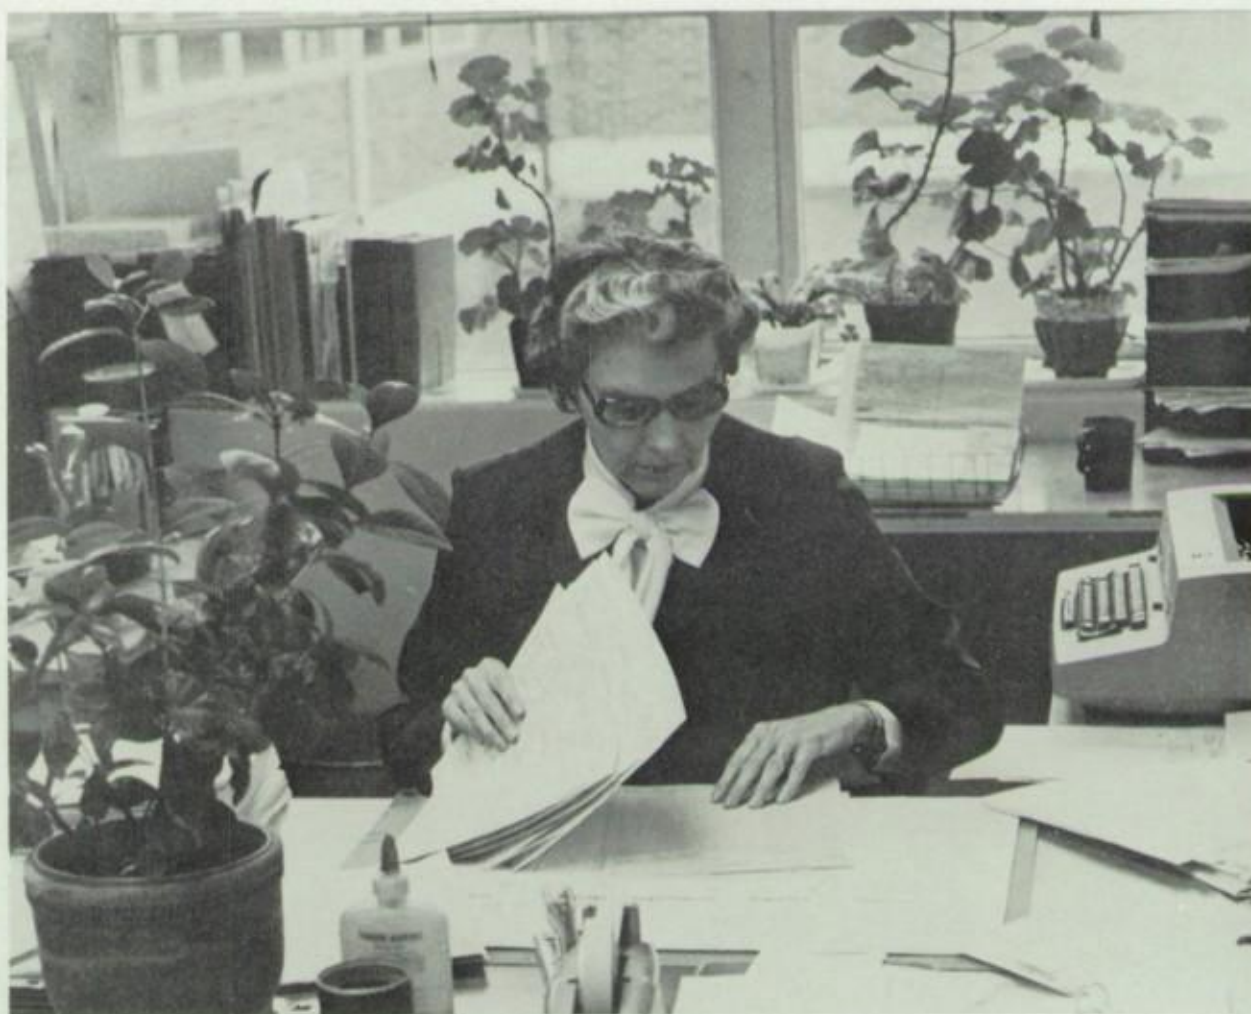

Work Study Program advisors, Miss Gail Alder, Employment Specialist, and Mrs. Jane Lomax, teacher's aid, work mutually together in the guidance, counseling and instruction of Clover Park students, in the areas of job hunting, job preparation, and business experience which gives them a head start.

Many valuable services provided by secretaries and custodians of CP

Fulfilling their responsibilities, the secretaries of every office worked jointly to make the school's operation run smoothly and effectively. With initiative and skill in business procedures, secretaries in the Guidance and Main Office coordinated appointments, answered phone calls and stored official records while Mrs. Helga Thomas handled money affairs in Student Accounts.

Exhibiting efficiency, CP custodian kept our campus green and litter free while they aided in small classroom emergencies. Always ready to help, they repaired faulty objects, painted chipped surfaces and provided access to jammed lockers. Working as a team, they secured the school building by locking doors and maintained cleanliness in the halls.

Mastering difficult dialects and tricky spellings challenged several students this year as they attempted to learn a Spanish, French or German language. Beginning classes studied the basics while advanced classes widened their vocabularies and touched on the finer language points.

Many students obtained a taste of their country's way of life by reading foreign folklore and celebrating traditional cultural events. A Mexican fiesta honored Mexico's Independence Day and a Weinachts Fest enlivened the German holiday season while delectable crepes excited appetites of French pupils.

Foreign language instruction provided valuable insight for students interested in foreign cultures.

Comprehension of the basic elements of English made up part of the requirement that each incoming sophomore had to fulfill by taking English 3 and 4, two new classes offered in the English Department.

Another addition included a new Clover Leaves adviser, Mr. Bruce Akin who brought about a "fresh appearance" in the school newspaper.

Preparatory classes for future careers or for college-bound seniors complemented students' knowledge while other courses dwelt into mysteries, comical topics or the field of theatrical and stage performances.

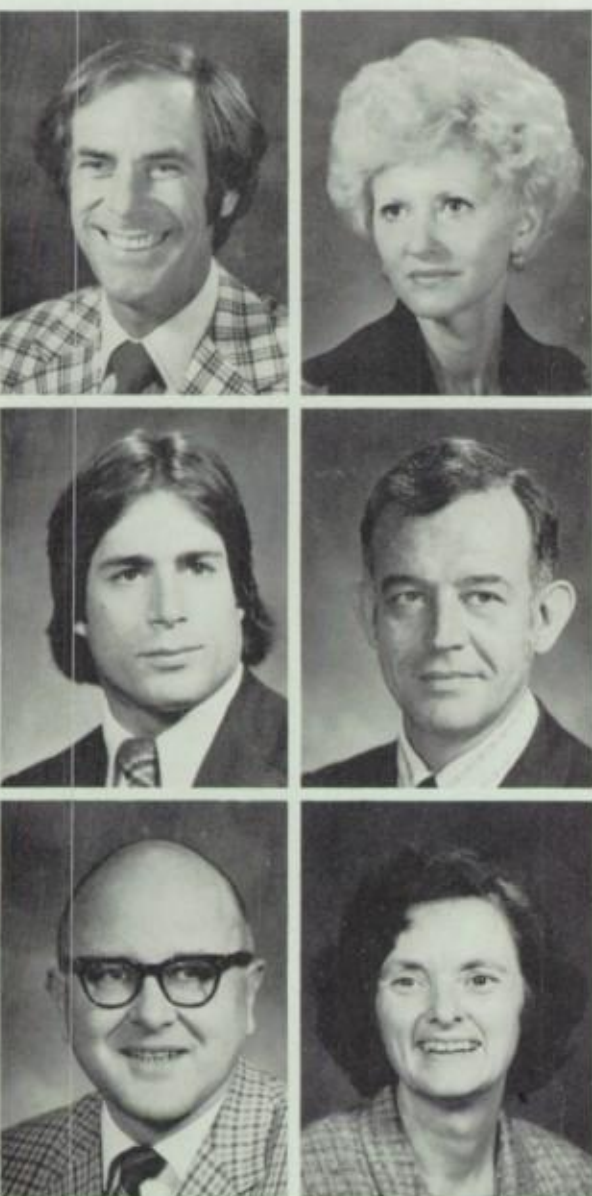

Education accented with humor and drama enveloped an array of English course offerings for all aspiring young scholars.

Mr. Dan Hensley expressedly gives Susan Dodge his veteran advice in an effort to make sure that the Geometry I student has the necessary background to further her mathematical abilities.

With calculator in hand, students tackled theorems, equations and a limitless amount of numerical situations in the Math Department headed by Mr. Warren DePrenger.

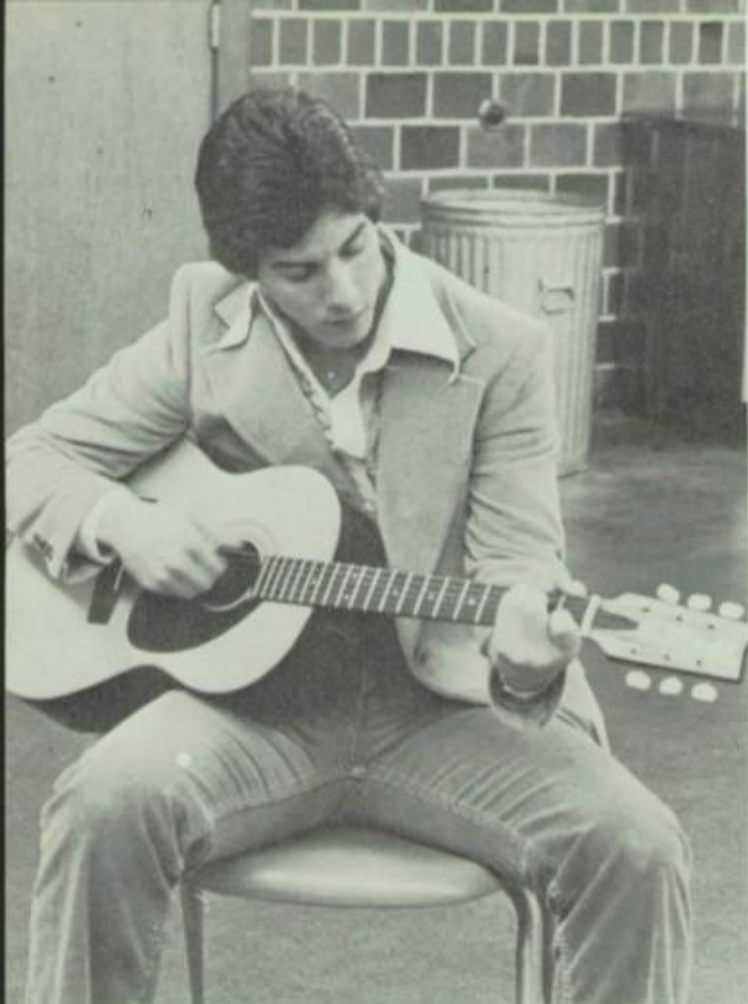

This year's addition of a new terminal helped relieve computer congestion and allowed calculative classes such as Computer Concepts to "talk" to the central computer, located in the District Office.

After gaining concepts on basic mathematical skills in geometry and Fundamental Algebra, numerically inclined minds, with an interest in the field of mathematics, advanced to Algebra 3 & 4, then on to Trigonometry and Pre-Calculus, which provided further enrichment for future courses in college life.

Showing their mathematical talents by graphing functions, Algebra IV students Ed Quisenberry

Melodious individuality attributes to harmonious character of intonations

Melodic expressions chimed harmony throughout a year of choral and instrumental prowess among all young musicians who displayed performance devotion in the Music Department.

All music groups traveled to individual or ensemble contests while they entertained at social engagements and school concerts.

Season Ticket Sales, the main money-making source for music students, supplied the department with sound equipment needed for an advanced output of performance and enabled a few groups to take musical tours.

The annual "Night of Nonsense and Nostalgia" provided an array of entertainment while CP's first Jazz Concert emphasized styles of popular jazz for voices and instruments.

During Swing Choir rehearsal, musically involved Steve Pope, Mary Klebeck and Eileen Hearon focus their attention on a ballad, "Send in the Clowns," in preparation for future performance at contest.

Art Department enlightens creativity

Molding, spinning, sketching and dipping are a few of the many activities in the Art Department which provide opportunities for students to express their creativity. Classes from Painting and Pottery to Leather and Leaded Stained Glass supplied ingredients for an assortment of fine art courses.

Developing know-how in managing domestic arts inspires homemakers

Improvement of family participation and a program for better future homemakers outlined some set goals of the Home Economics Department.

Under the leadership of Miss Gail Berto, a new club, Future Homemakers of America, offered benefits for both male and female members, such as a chance to provide school services, employment in teenage problems and to learn parliamentary procedures.

The department, headed by Mrs. Betty Sampson, aided students in discovering optional home-like courses while advanced topics held opportunities for further course achievement.

The annual Betty Crocker Home-maker award saw provisions for a scholarship to eligible seniors interested in a future vocation in home economics.

Industrial Art students employ imagination in projects

Further carrying on students' potential, the Industrial Arts Department provided opportunity and experience to establish this talent enrichment program.

The purchase of a shop ticket opened the door to a possible career in engineering, drafting, architecture and even aviation. Department instructors headed by Mr. William Hope demonstrated their skills in each of the offered fields as they enabled interested students to specialize in a desired future vocation.

The Industrial Arts Department also participated in the Evening of the Arts. Everything from woodwork to metal designs exhibited to the public and fellow artists, abilities possessed within many CP students.

Progress and change relates the story of Clover Park's libraries. Present-day Room 106 sited the establishment of the school's first library in 1941. This library contained only about 2,800 books and had little in the way of audio-visual equipment. Construction of another library launched forth two years later and remains in use today.

The 1950's views the addition of the North Library. Today, the two libraries carry some 20,000 books and extensive audio-visual equipment, including video tape recorders and camera systems.

Books, equipment and combined experienced help provided an indispensable service to all students of Clover Park High School.

Business Education classes accent cultivation of skills and management

Innovative concepts introduced by old and new faces, initiated another year in the Business Education Department at Clover Park.

Business courses not only taught a skill useful in simple employment, but offered an introduction into the operations of a corporation.

The department stressed an idea of quantitative skills for positive and negative reinforcements with emphasis on students to expect responsibility and to take initiative in the Business Department.

All of these methods carried out by the students with diligence, brought hopes of drawing future business people from a labyrinth atmosphere of routine work to a levelminded state of affairs.

Rigorous workout and active competition complemented all courses in the Physical Education Department.

Students participated in sports programs for amusement and for advanced improvements in various individual abilities but also learned competitive skills in the offered itinerary. A multitude of classes allowed students to partake in agility of modern or folk dance as weight training and soccer.

Headed by Mr. Merle Hagbo, PE instructors guided students in developing skill, coordination, muscle tone and grace while school nurse, Mrs. Geneva Wheeler assisted teachers in endeavors to maintain all CP athletes in top physical condition.

Voc Tech training widens career opportunities

Gained insight about the world of employment through vocational school supplied adequate preparation for various obstacles following graduation from Clover Park High School.

By attending classes at the institution, students earned school credits for a specific type of career they wished to pursue later on in lifework. Those who lagged behind in requirements for completion of high school undertook evening courses.

Through Exploring Vocational Education (EVE) Program, students acquired an ability to scan various desired career fields. Broadening horizons of their interests, the institute reflected a philosophy of service to concerns of the individual.

Taking a short break from discussing the various techniques that will enable them to become top rated auto mechanics, students gather around their instructor in the auto shop at Voc. School.

Ways of the Wheel taught through new program in Traffic Safety class

Honk, screech, crash! Traffic Safety student drivers traveled through Tacoma to learn the ways of the wheel.

Completion of the course relied on a new program which used individual performance as a basis for success. This system demanded punctual effort and required each student to fulfill modules that dealt with different procedures of driving.

Along with a new addition, Mr. Phil Rayan, our team of instructors joined educated students to drive safely and skillfully.

Clover Park shared teachers and cars alike with Lakes, providing classroom instruction, further knowledge on traffic proficiency and actual "on the road" experience.

Inspirational winner Ruth Risley takes seventh and eighth at state

After anticipating victory, the Girls' Swim Team began their season with early season wins and placed fourth with a 3-3 SPSL record.

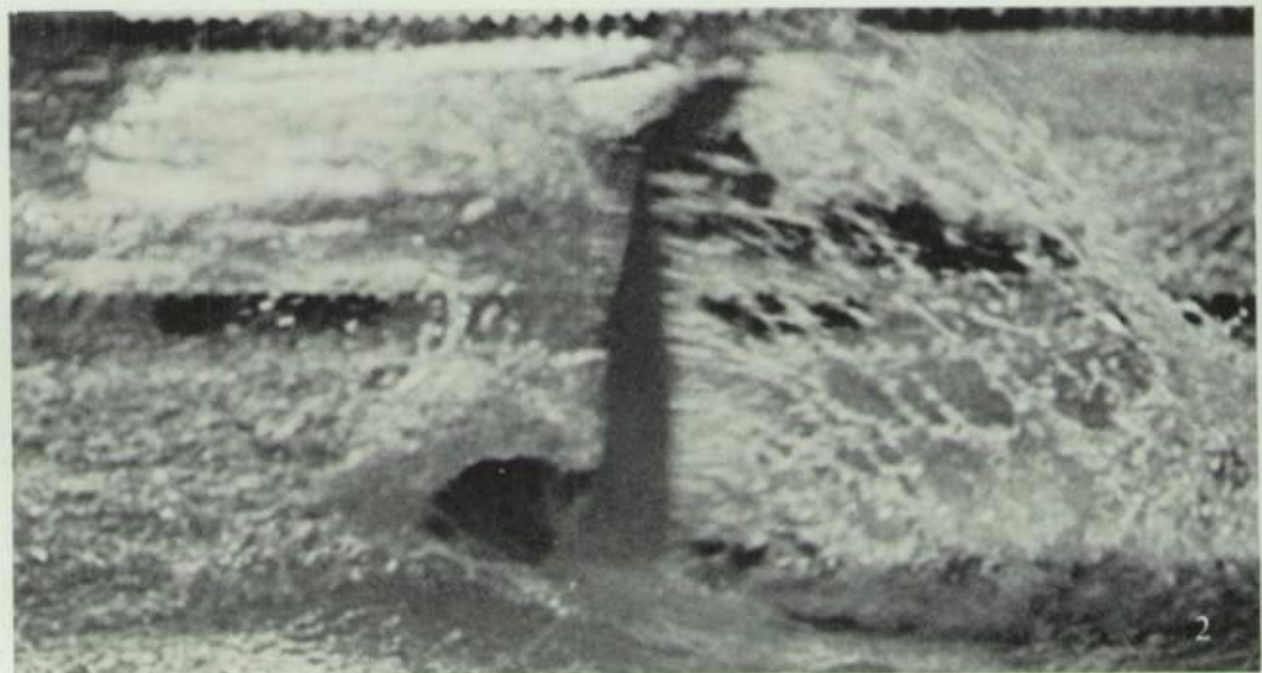

Under the veteran coaching of David Emery, the team persevered to achieve their high set goals. Led by Coach Gordon Dolman, the diving team gained valuable experience aided by a strong diving squad.

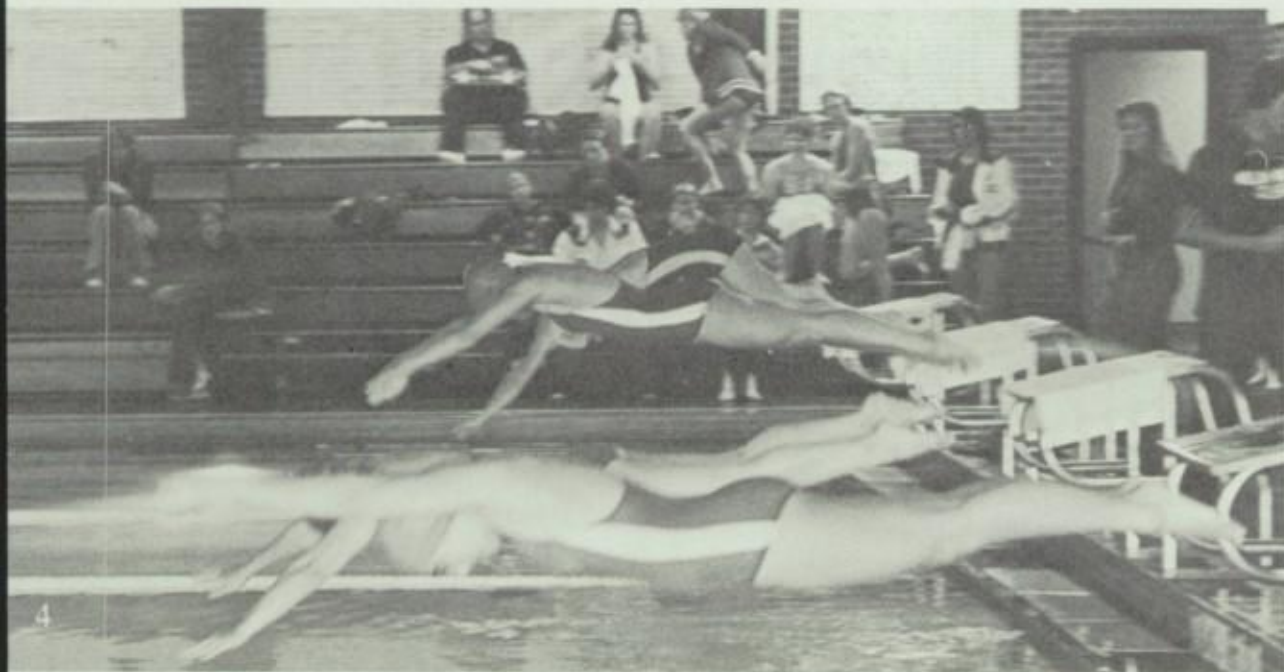

Freshmen Vicki Chittick, Teresa Reed and Patty Klein helped provide the depth needed for CP's victories. According to Coach Dolman, "Sophomore Cathy Morris showed great potential to become a definite asset next season." Swimmers who advanced to state meet at UW included: Vicki Anderson, Patty Klein, Tina Owens, Tami Pearson and Ruth Risley.

Golfers practice long, hard; achieve 2nd place in SPSL

A league win against Washington 76-64 teed off a season for Clover Park's young Golf Team.

Under the supervision of Coach Harold Roberts, team members swung into outstanding form with sophomore Mark Sivara and senior Woody Eastby leading the way.

Using Tacoma Country Club's Golf Course as CP's home course, Warrior linksters spent many hours of practice to achieve goals.

The Varsity Golf Squad demonstrated their ability with assistance from Grant Dencklau, John Dimmer and Scott Prosser.

In strongly-competitive Medalist Competition, CP took second in overall school standings, in the South Puget Sound League.

CP Warrior Volleyists show outstanding

Victorious matches opened a season of Girls' Volleyball with strong opponents as our agile spikers traveled to various schools to display volleyball prowess and technique.

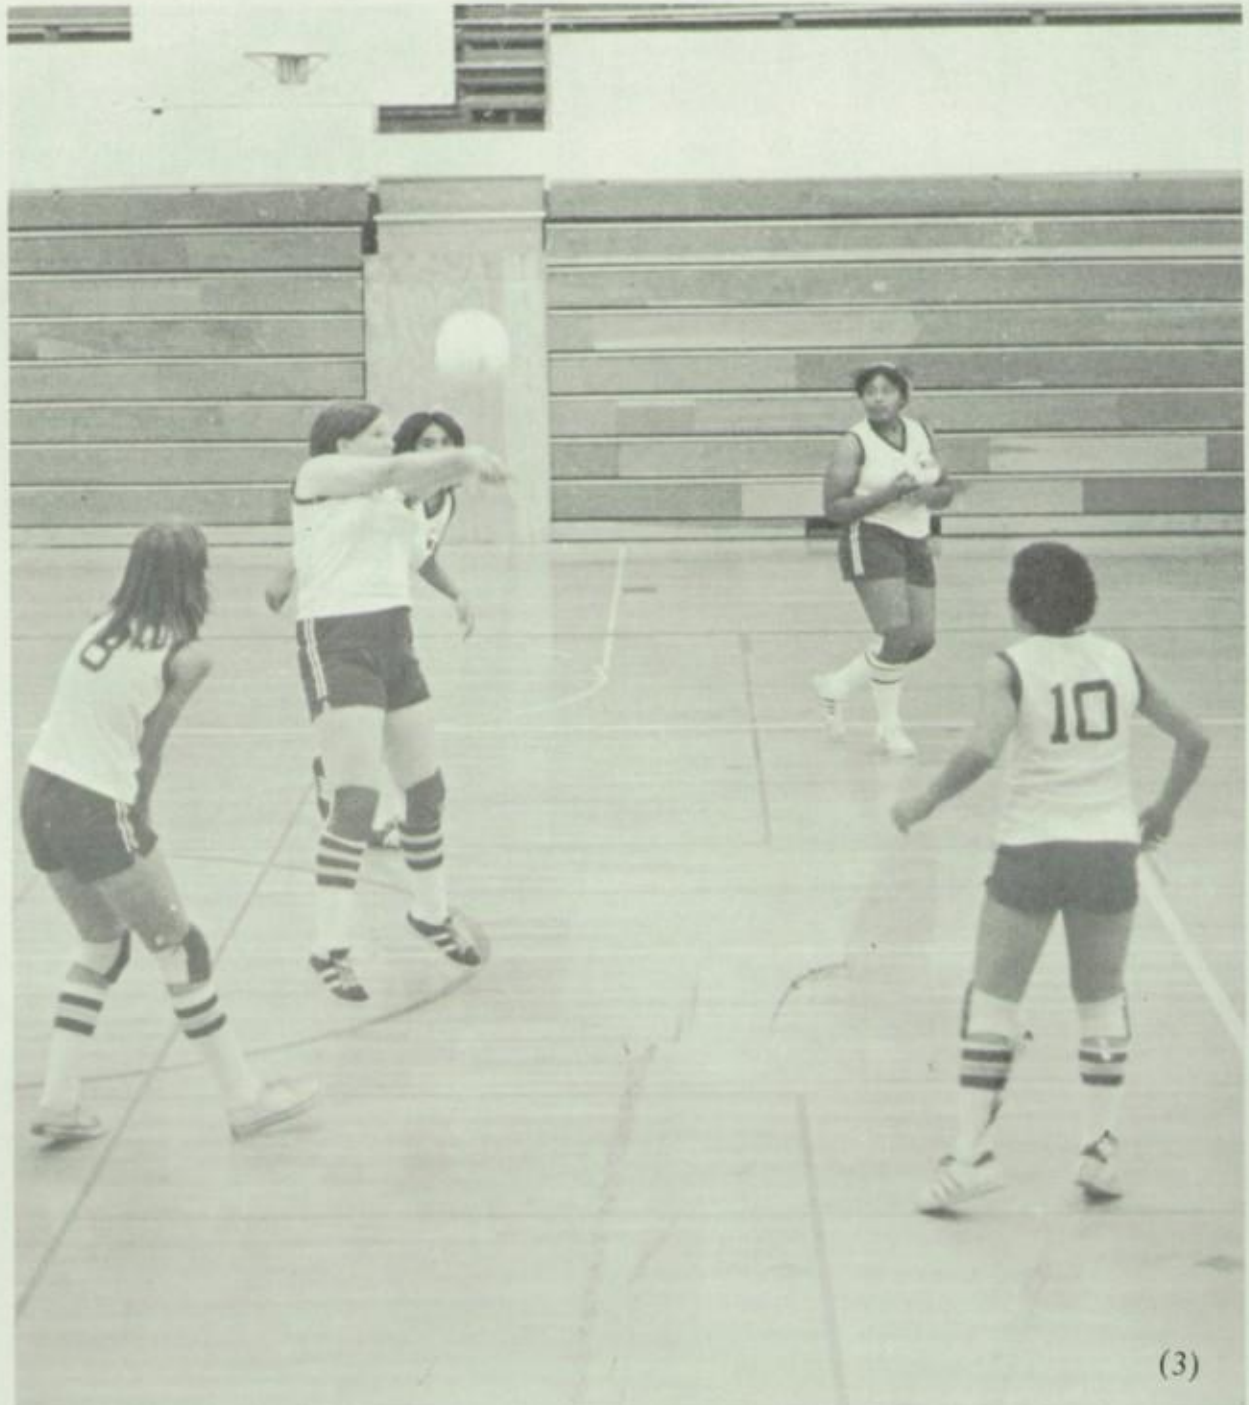

This year saw an addition to the coaching staff. Along with the abilities of Varsity Coach Mrs. Susie Ross, Junior Varsity gained the talents of Miss Barbara Pyne.

Home crowds rallied behind the powerball players as the girls calculated every volley and played her position to score a 15-12, 19-17 win over Rogers, a 15-12, 15-8 smash on Bethel and a 15-8, 15-7 victory against Puyallup.

Girls' Tennis team swings into three-way first place tie

With the depth and strength of a first rate team, Girls' Tennis Team smashed into their '76-'77 season.

The Warriorettes, coached by Mr. Gary Thomas faced rigid opposition but the young squad, with only two seniors, displayed quality performances to place in a three way championship tie for first with Federal Way and Lakes.

Players traveled to the District Meet, capturing the tournament title by placing first in all events. Laura Burns took singles, while the duo of Shelley Doran-Mary Harbottle won doubles and Ma-chelle Thomas-Anne Woodward came in to capture consolation.

A 60-0 slaughtering of Puyallup followed by a Roger's loss to Washington, assured Clover Park a playoff berth in Class AAA action.

Battling Port Angeles, ballplayers displayed passing and running maneuvers with the execution of two touchdowns and a touchdown pass to Matt Wambold by Quarterback Dean Sivara. Later, John Martin hurled a pass, connecting with Marty Mitchell for a Clover Park touchdown.

Sophomore Allen Hurinenko, boomed six consecutive conversions, Junior Mike Martin gained over 100 yds. total rushing, and Senior Dave Pritchard picked up three TD's for CP gridmen.

The 48-7 victory, summed up by team effort, advanced the Green and Gold to a quarterfinals showdown in a rematch on FW's earlier 25-14 win.

At halftime, Warriors led with a 7-0 score but in the third quarter, the Eagles came back to make two touchdowns, which concluded the scoring for that evening.

With a gain of 253 yds. rushing, 59 yds. passing, and 14 first downs, Clover Park dominated overall statistics with the exception of the final score, 14-7.

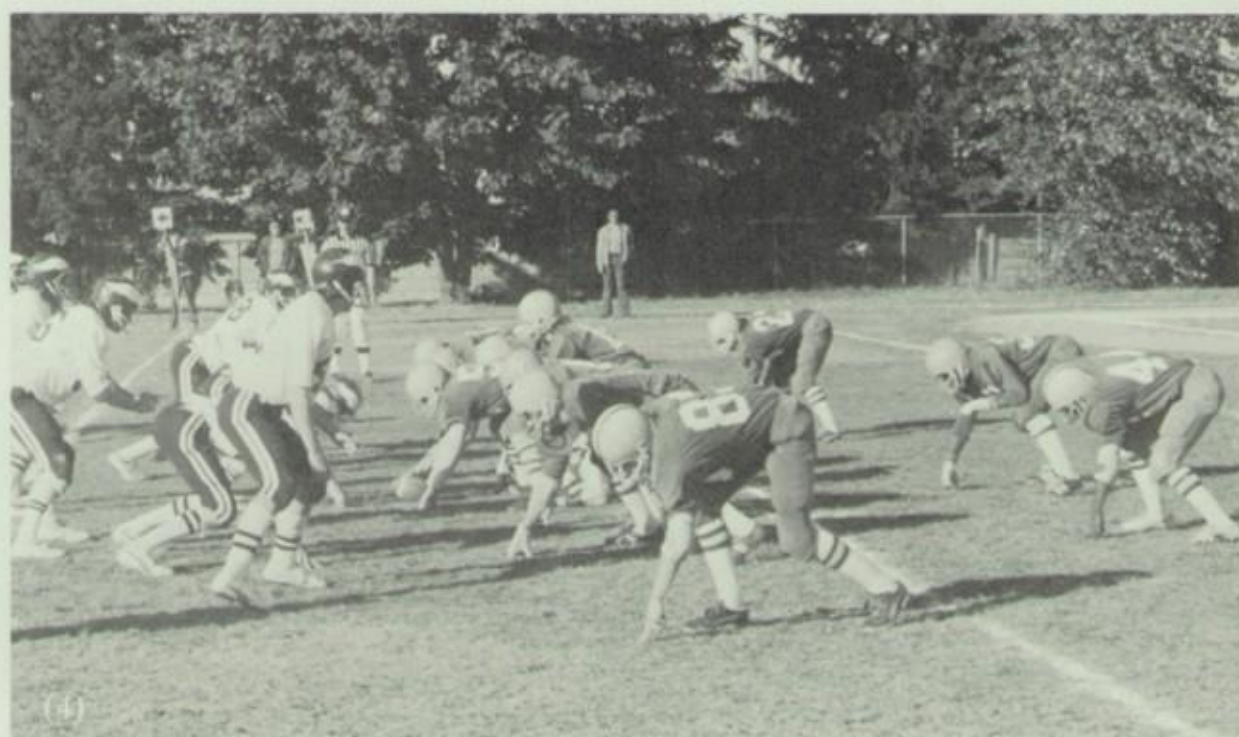

Apostle, Hadland coach JV football; finishing with a 6-1 record in SPSL

Headed by multiple efforts of the coaching staff consisting of Mr. James Hadland and Mr. Tony Apostle, Clover Park's Junior Varsity Football Team finished with a victorious 6-1 season in the SPSL.

The season began with a smashing 26-0 win over Curtis which led to further victories of 28-0 and 24-0 against Decatur and Franklin Pierce respectively.

The aggressive JV Squad showed talent while playing Clover Park's number one competitor, Lakes, winning by a narrow margin of 23-22.

A win of 44-0 against the Washington Patriots and a 38-6 victory over the Puyallup Vikings brought the Green and White Team's season to its conclusion.

(1) After an offensive collision, JV quarterback secures the ball for enough yardage to gain a CP first down.

(2) In a pre-game warm up session, JV gridders psyche up with muscle-toning exercises for good performance.

(3) Breaking away from would-be tacklers, a JV running back sweeps around the right end for a CP touchdown.

(4) Preparing for a surge forward against an opposing team, CP's JV football squad awaits the play's call.

(5) Defending their goal, the reserve gridders hold that line to prevent their opponents from going ahead.

Sophomore squad's season highlighted with a 44 - 8 stomp over Jefferson

Defensive ability helped sophomore gridmen end their season of man to man competition with a 33-6 victory over the Puyallup Vikings.

Coach Al Broeckel called defensive plays and effective strategy with assistance from Mr. Robert Plaisance who designated offensive tactics for the team.

Consistent football action short-circuted opponents with early season wins over Curtis 14-6, Bethel 9-7 and Bellarmine 14-8.

A 44-8 stomp on the Jefferson Raiders highlighted the season for future members of the varsity team.

Season standings came to a halt with five wins and three losses which tallied strong potential of the sophomore team.

Graceful gymnasts tumble to 3rd in SPSL; Two girls advance to State

The eighteen members of the Girls' Gymnastics Team combined litheness, pliancy and gracefulness to advance their talent in areas of vaulting, floor exercise, uneven parallel bars, tumbling and balance beam.

Coached by Ms. Marilyn Feher, the team captured third in SPSL standings with a season record of 6-4.

A rarity in high school competition, sophomore Cathy Morris scored an 8.3 on uneven parallel bars. This year's team boasted more all-around gymnasts than in previous seasons.

The team produced two prospective gymnasts for state meet action, Rachelle Morgan and Cathy Morris, who both placed in sub-regionals and regionals through individual and all-around compulsory routines.

Shortness compensated by high spirits on Varsity Team

Short in height but not in spirit! That's the story of this year's Warrior Varsity Basketball Team. Under the supervision of Coach Jack Pelander the squad ended the season with a league standing of 6 wins and 12 losses.

"The ball players gave everything they had and then some but because of lack of height it was hard to compete against the bigger and taller teams. I am just as proud of this ball club as those with a better win-loss record," stated Coach Pelander.

Bill Schaler led the team as high scorer with an average of 12 points per league game, while Dave Franklin set the pace as high rebounder.

The 1977 Varsity Basketball Team included: Don Denman, Bill Jackson, Dave Franklin, Rich Mansfield, Mike Martin, Bill Schaler, Lloyd Scott, Sean Scanlan and Mark Sivara.

JV dribblers gain experience for future competition

Concluding their Junior Varsity Basketball season with a 62-48 victory over the Franklin Pierce Cardinals, the team finished with a four win fourteen loss record.

Moving well through many competitive games, the Warriors defeated Jefferson with a 60-50 score and then again a second time 66-62. In the first game against Washington, the hoopsters came out with a 58-47 win but their second meeting ended with a disappointing loss of 68-89.

Top scorers, Mark Sivara and Sean Scanlan, led the team in completion of the season with a 62-48 win over Franklin Pierce.

Coach Merle Hagbo commented on the '76-'77 season with this remark. "There are a number of JV players who have gained experience and should help next year's team."

Sophomore team dribbles basketball to place third in league standings

Under the directional supervision of Mr. Robert Plaisance, the Sophomore Basketball Team displayed a winning attitude with successive wins over Bethel, Curtis and Washington.

With "effective rematch" action, the team clinched victories over the Curtis Vikings, 51-45 and the Rogers Rams, 42-34. Spotighting their season, the Warriors rallied with strong group unity to triumph over Puyallup for the second time, 67-50.

Three of the team's members, Eric Guttormsen, Guy Lindbergh and Sedrick Cachere received promotions to advance to starting positions on the Junior Varsity Basketball team.

Highlighting their season of league competition, the team secured a second place SPSL finish with an eleven win and six loss record.

Varsity Wrestling wins State Championship in Triple A league contest

Defending his perfect victory record, this year's new Varsity Wrestling coach, Joe Reasons, viewed completion of the 76-77 season unbeaten and untied in dual matches.

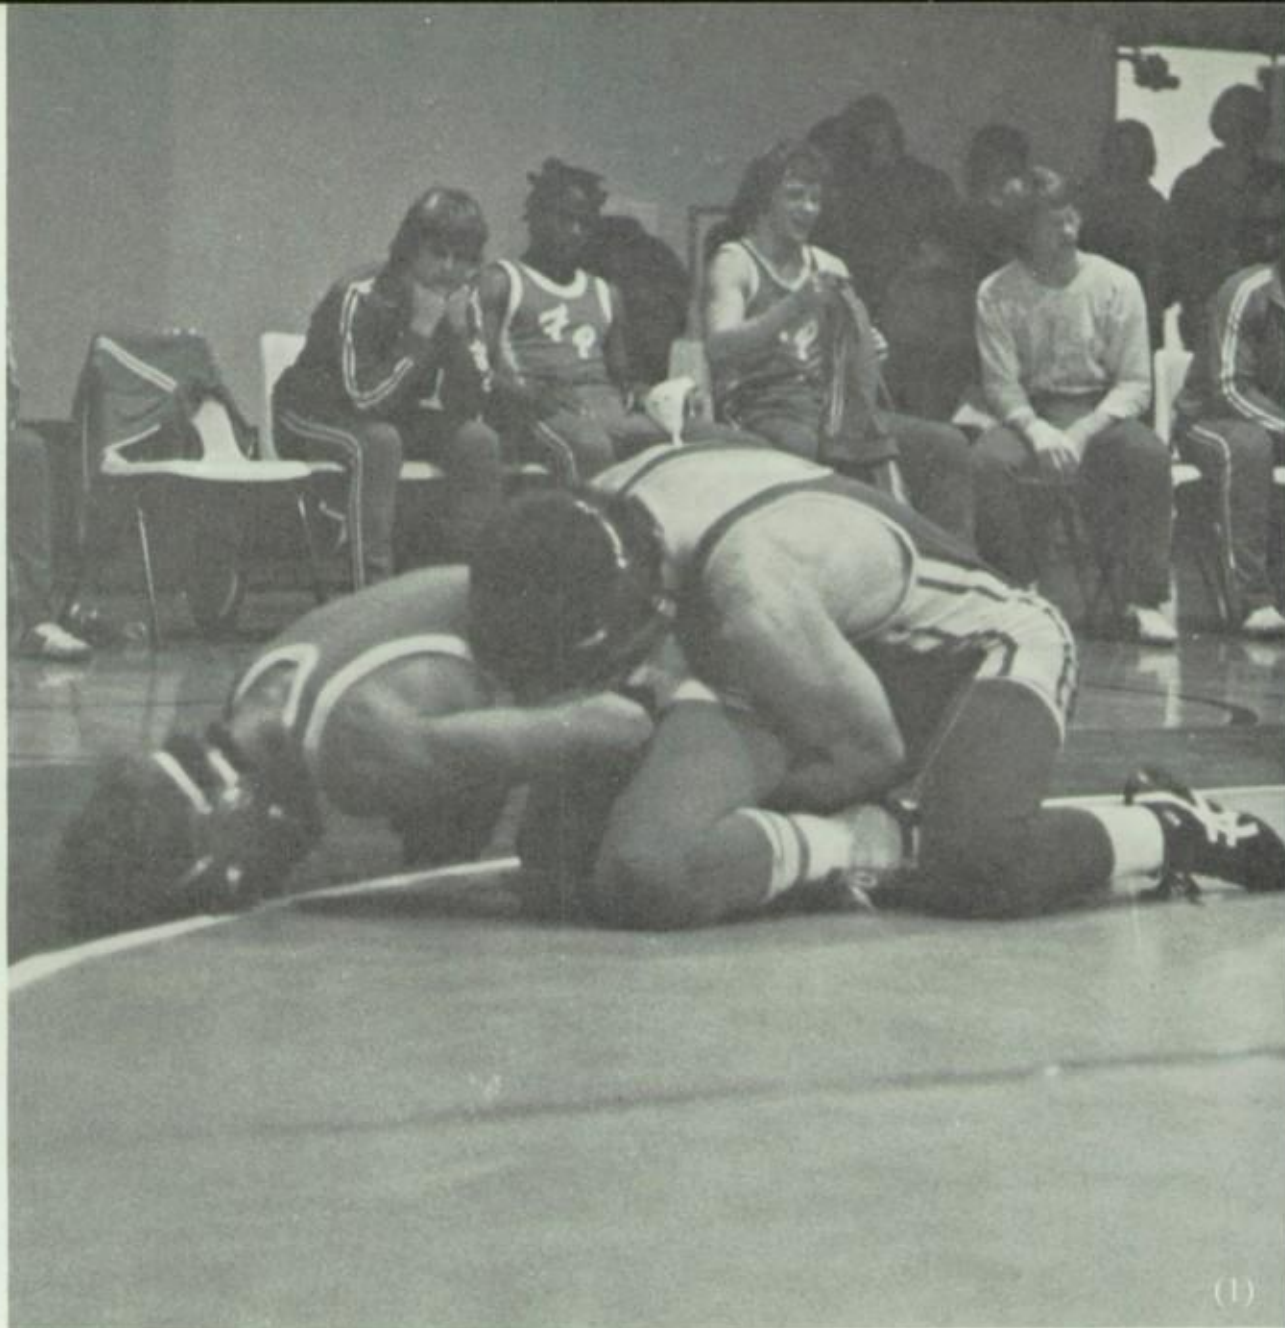

The thirteen members of the varsity squad, led by five graduating seniors, projected team unity and stressed their dedication and "willingness to sacrifice."

Displaying their supremacy with a 29-20 triumph over the Curtis Vikings and a 28-27 edge over the Lakes Lancers, Clover Park claimed the SPSL title with a 20-0 season record.

Gaining a net score of 215 points to snag first at Sub-Regionals, all thirteen men qualified for Region III Tournament where Warriors again took the number one spot with 151½ points.

Advancing to State Meet at UPS, six individual grapplers move CP to rank as the state's top team with 90 pts. Individual titlists included Pancho Dagan (1st), Randy Reed (6th), Mark Anderson (2nd), Scott Owen (4th), and Martin Stevens (1st).

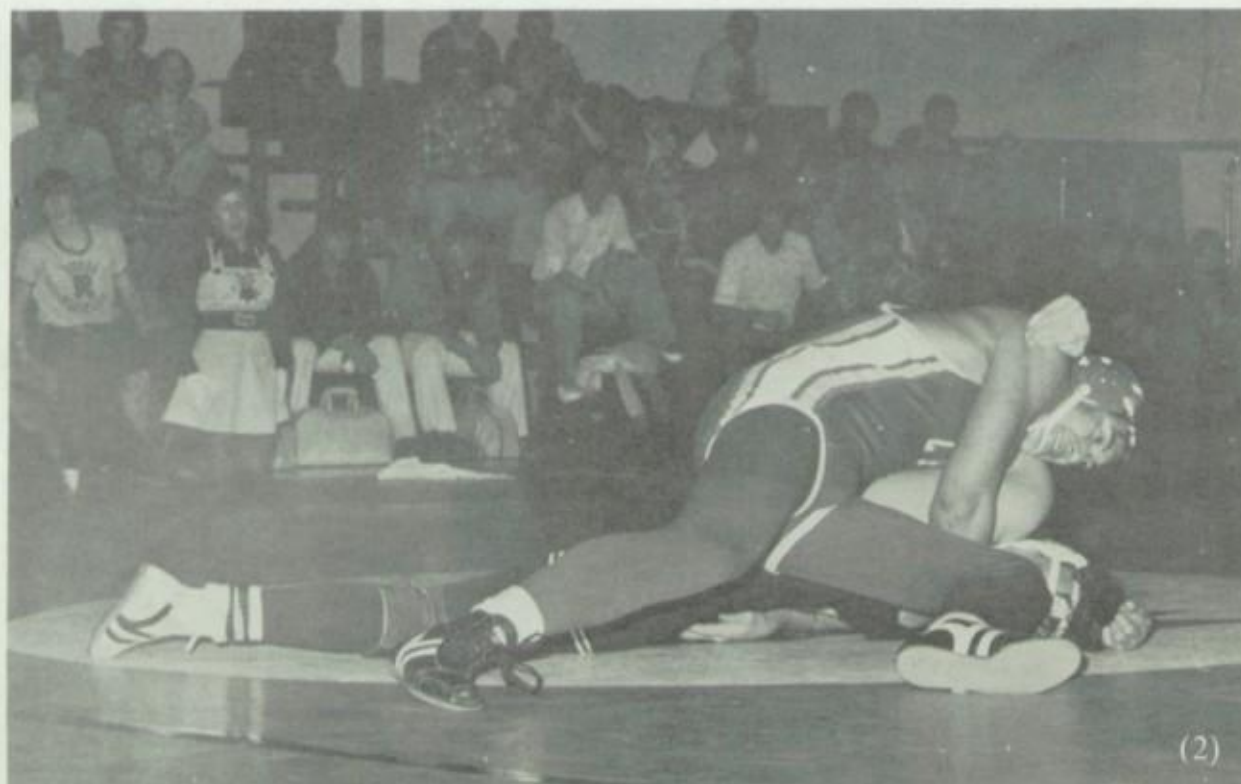

Five wrestlers witnessed the end of their three year mat action. Their individual 1976-77 season records consisted of (115) Mark Anderson, 17-1; (122) Dave Wheeler, 13-4; (158) Scott Owen, 17-0; (168) Martin Stevens, 17-1; and (191) Dave Pritchard, 16-1.

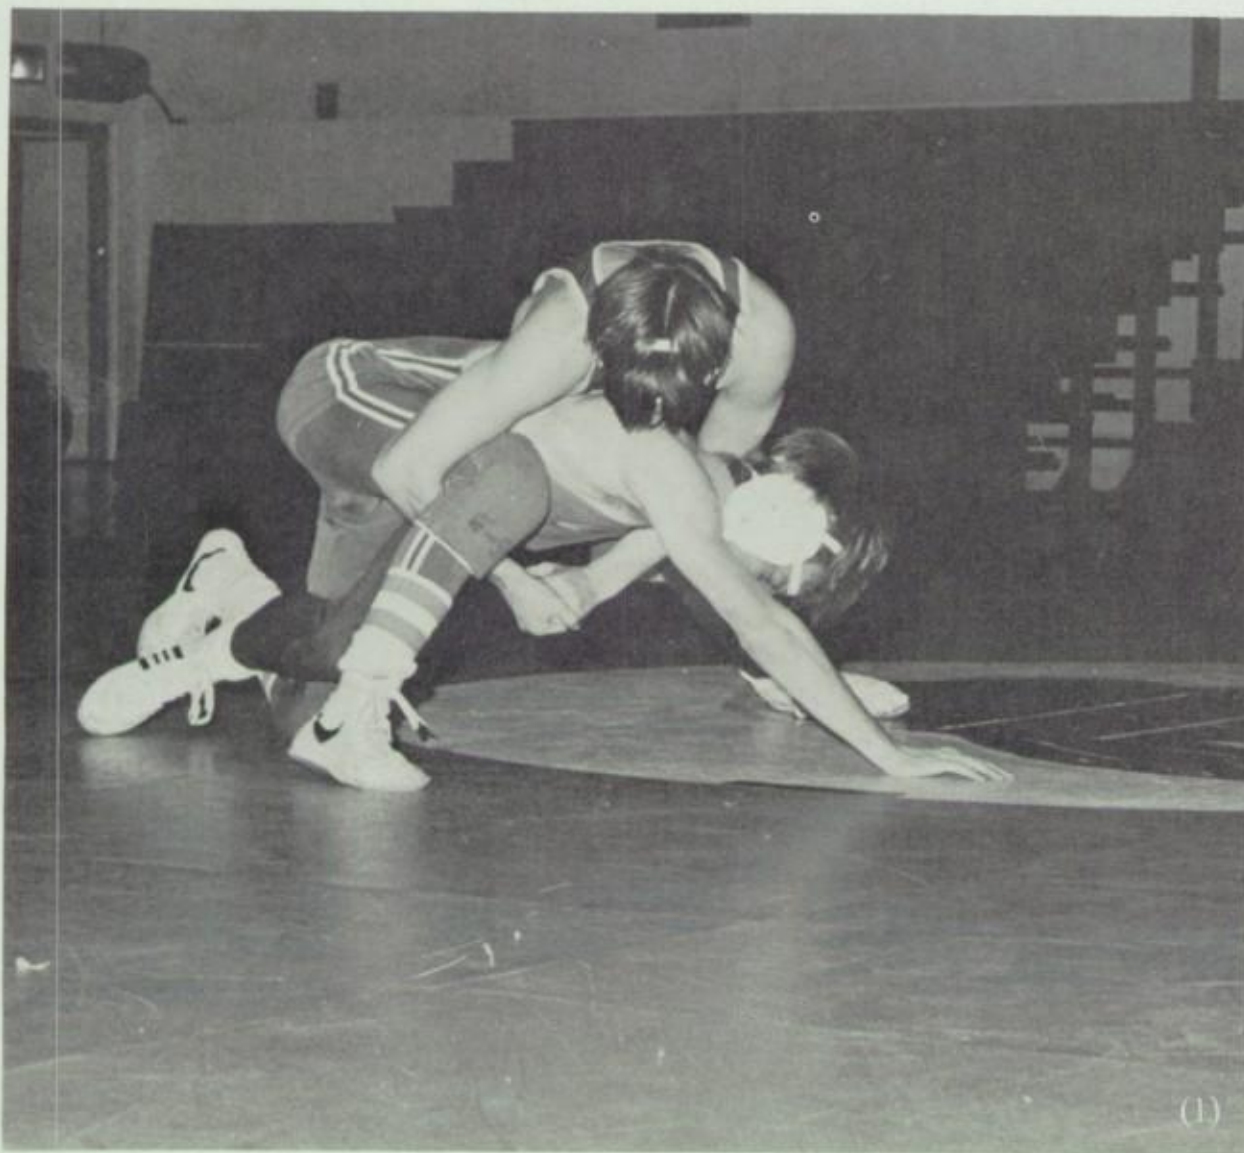

(1) Scott Owen has the advantage as the Warriors take on the Franklin Pierce Cardinals. FP, the first match of the season, and the beginning of a long road toward state finals for the 158 lbs. wrestler.

(2) Trapping the opposition in an overpowering grip, Dave Pritchard puts pressure on his competitor.

(3) A combination of strength and speed enables senior Paul Enfield to outmaneuver his mat opponent as he grinds forward to score takedown points needed to snare his first place spot in Region III.

JV Wrestlers attain 11-2 record; show Coach Hensley much talent

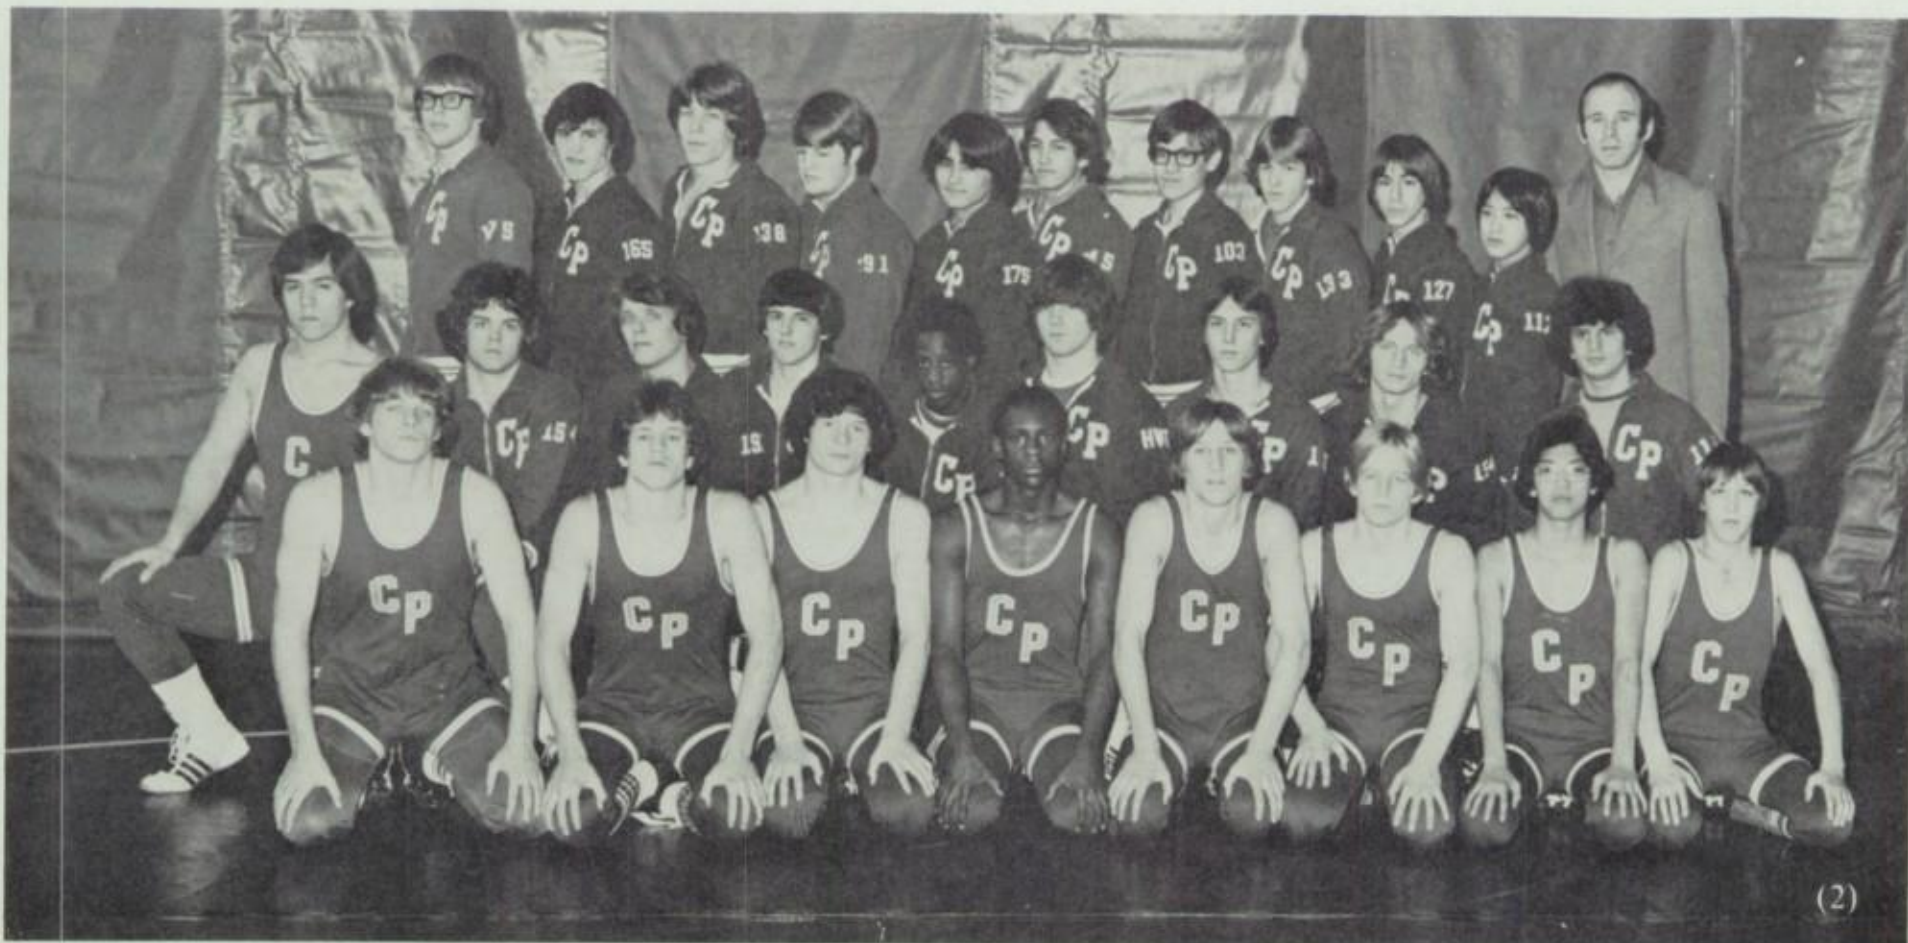

(1) Senior JV Wrestler Jody Sandidge struggles with his opponent while preparing for a take-down.

Grapplers of the Junior Varsity Wrestling Squad tackled and secured an impressive 11-2 season record.

Learning of various skilled techniques prepared wrestlers for those upcoming contests challenging physical strength, mental concentration, and versatility in maneuvers. John Dunlap, a JV member reaching the Varsity level, demonstrated his attainment by accompanying twelve Varsity teammates to Sub-Regional matches.

The JV played an important part of the successful Varsity program in that they provided confronting competition needed by the Varsity. Coach Dan Hensley, pleased with the matmen's achievement of acquired skills throughout the season, felt that their influence should be noticed in next year's group.

JV Girl Hoopsters

dribble their way to a successful 6-2 season

CP's 1976-77 Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball Team opened their season with a 38-13 victory over the Franklin Pierce Cardinals.

Coaches Nancy Rothenburg and Barbara Pyne, aided JV girls in securing a 6-2 season record. Prominent players among the JV team consisted of junior, Deanna Hollow and sophomores Colleen Brady and Angel Rauson, potential varsity players.

Clover Park's game against Bethel proved to highlight the season when JV Warriors came from behind to upset Bethel in final game seconds.

Managers, Songsuk Pak and Julianne Collet provided helpful assistance throughout the season.

JV performance could prove to be helpful in gaining valuable experience for possible Varsity competition.

(1) Deanna Hollow prepares to pass the ball to a teammate to make a basket in Junior Varsity action. (2) Aggressively driving past opposing defenses in pursuit of an important goal, Angel Rauson intently concentrates as Karen Coor hopefully observes in a Junior Varsity game with the Lancers.

Shooting off their winter sports program, the Girls' Basketball Team defeated Foss by a 54-52 score. The 1976-77 team, coached by Mrs. Nancy Rothenburg and Assistant Coach Miss Barbara Pyne, completed their season with a 12-5 record and a third place ranking in the SPSL.

Emotions ran high as the Warriors played a close 43-41 game against crosstown rival Lakes ending in a two point Clover Park victory.

Captain Willette White led the varsity team through West Central District tournament action and with one win and two losses, closed their sports campaign for the season.

With only four graduating seniors on the team, coaches anticipated an even stronger team for next year.

Coach Angelel leads CP Cindermen through successful track season

The 1977 Track Team season marked the largest turnout of participants in many years at Clover Park. With a vast amount of sophomores and juniors, the track team acquired many new and promising athletes.

Coached by Mr. James Angelel, Mr. Robert Plaisance and Mr. Darrold Talley, the track squad improved its performance in all aspects of the sport during each competitive meet.

Bob Sargent and Jim Russell displayed exceptional performance in the long distance races throughout the season. Supported by additional track team members, meritable athletes included Dave Franklin in the triple jump, Mike Jewett in hurdles, Dave Pritchard in the shot put and discus, and Steve Halliday in the pole vault.

(1) With a surge of energy, Steve Halliday soars up and over the pole vault preparing for a meet.

League's division gives tracksters valuable practice time, less pressure

Energetic runners of Girls' Track sprinted on winged-feet through sloshy rain and glimmering sunshine alike to participate in highly competitive spring sport action.

In her fifth year as head coach, Mrs. Janet Erickson, assisted by Miss Barbara Pyne and Mrs. Sandra Beachler, worked continuously with a young group composed of new and returning tracksters.

The division of the SPSL from ten to five teams, decreased the number of meets and created a less pressured schedule. This enabled the team to benefit much more from week long training. They spent additional hours on endurance and timing, while allowing time for discipline in individual skill development and statistical improvements.

Strategically aiming for a title, netters rally to an effective season

Using indoor facilities in the South Gym due to wet weather, the Boys' Tennis team began the spring season with technique improvements.

Individual players touched up their various strokes with the use of a videotape machine while agility and volley style increased with the aid of an automated ball machine.

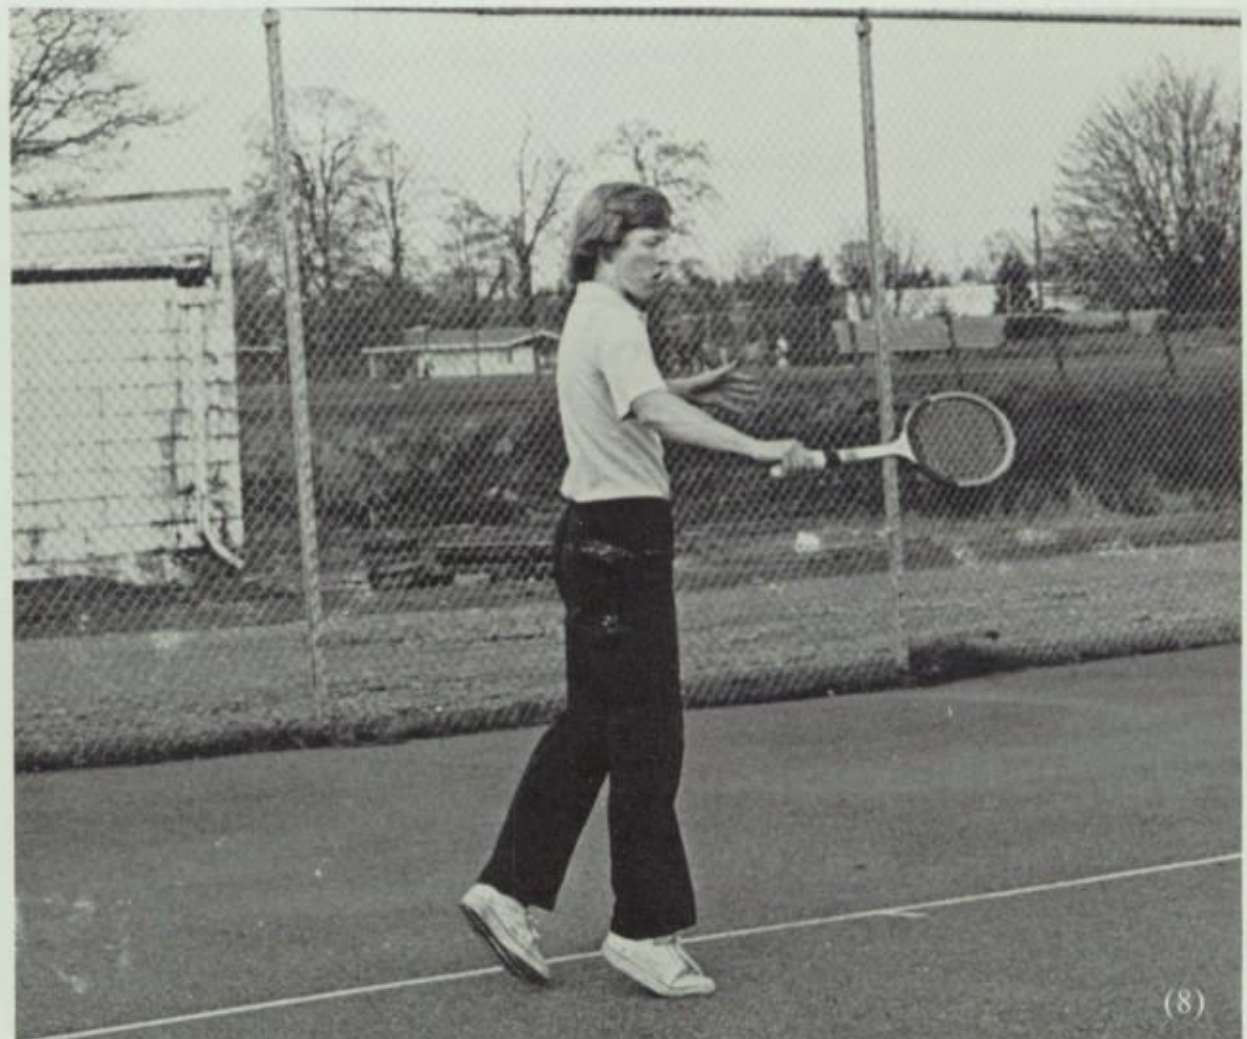

Coached by Mr. Gary Thomas, the boys composed a solid team, depth being one of their main assets. By "running in continuous motion" and other exercises, the boys advanced their dexterity and reflex actions.

The squad constructed around returning lettermen, Mark Aaron, Robert Monaghan, Sean Scanlan and Chuck Van Court while the remaining team members helped the crew in completion of a successful season.

- (8) Preparing for the first league game of the season Chuck VanCourt practices his forehand technique.

Blankers leads Girls' Softball to a progressive, successful season

Not letting the soggy spring weather dampen their swinging spirits, athletes participating in the 1977 Girls' Softball program, in its second year as a varsity sport, completed a competitive season. The addition of seven teams boosted the playing field for the Green and White Warrior home team.

Mrs. Robin Blankers, in her second year of coaching, felt this year's squad generated improvement in acquired skills, with a total of one-third returning players. She believed that changeover from fast to slow pitch promised to be exciting, with "outrageous scores," but with more emphasis on defensive tactics in team work cooperation for success, rather than offense in a strong pitching arm.

- (1) As Clover Park's Softball team moves into action Sue Johnson readys her arm for competition.
 (2) Attempting to end the inning with a third out, Brenda Menor hurls the ball toward the plate.

Varsity Baseball team prepares for new season

Despite the wet spring weather the Boys' Varsity Baseball Team swung into good form with precision reflex drills and strengthening the infield-outfield force to make for a strong competitive league sports action.

Beginning their spring season with basic fundamental training drills such as conditioning pitchers and batters in style improvement, the baseball squad viewed their first victory against Stadium 7-1 but slid below Enumclaw with a score of 2-1.

Centering around the experience of the ten returning senior lettermen, Dan Gordon, Mike Kitchen, Rich Mansfield, John Martin, Bill Schaler, Ross Tomczak and Mike Welsh, the team hoped to complete the season with a sound South Puget Sound League ranking.

Dedication and long days of practice show results in JV Baseball Team

Junior Varsity Baseball began the '77 season with team training in coordination in all aspects of the sport from practice in infield and outfield positions, accuracy in throwing on target, consistency in instant reflex action and conditioning players on batting techniques.

The only returning player, Rick Fazzini, along with three juniors and eleven sophomores, comprised the fifteen-man squad which showed their team potential through defensive strategies and strong infield abilities during league competition.

Inexperienced in high school competition, new players strengthened themselves with non-league games against Stadium and Mt. Tahoma, the first two games of the season.

and boosts team to state

Beginning a second year of soccer, prompted thirty-one players to head for the fields to demonstrate learned techniques of dribbling and passing, as head coach Mr. Jack Carbone looked on with a critical eye.

March 11th marked the calendar as a first pre-league game in which Mt. Tahoma became our team's victim when Clover Park made a clean sweep win of 1-0. Mr. Carbone stated that all the teams are good and able, but Lakes proved to create the most competition.

Teamwork, a key factor in soccer displayed the squad's capabilities as they downed Bellarmine 2-1 and Peninsula 4-1. The season concluded with state action on May 25, and 26.

CP throughout Western Washington

A busy and rewarding year greeted Clover Park's Band Department, as rehearsals for performances at U of W and the Puyallup Fair began in August.

Directed by Mr. James Hunt our band provided entertainment for a variety of audiences as they enhanced half-time shows, livened athletic events performed flashy parade routines and showed talent in concerts and contests. Symphonic and Stage Bands traveled to Shoreline for competition where they placed high in all categories.

Dual Drum Majors gave the Marching Warrior Band a new look as Ann Henley, and Salie Mungia assisted Mr. Hunt in planning the instrumentalist's activities. Festivals and trips opened their spring season as bandsmen traveled throughout the Northwest to represent CP in parades.

Preparing themselves for upcoming competition, flutists Laura Burns, Teri Morris and Rena New-miller add a melodious woodwind sound to 'Shivaree,' Concert Band's contest selection.

Bassoonists, Stephanie McInturff and Andrea Reynolds combine talents to enhance Varsity Band.

Blending to produce a symphonic sound trombonist, Steve Geyer entertains listeners at the Fall Concert.

Combining with six of the best high school marching bands in Western Washington, CP's Marching Warriors take part in U of W's Band Day as they fascinate spectators with pre-game and half-time show thrills.

Vocalists travel

Proper breathing and posture assured a richer sound for harmonious voices in the Choral Department.

Fun-filled Mixed Chorus stressed basic concepts of singing in preparation for future entrance into more select groups such as Celestial Singers which performed a variety of musical selections at concerts.

Centurians provided entertainment for Daffodil Queen Coronation and attended jazz contests with Powder Company under the directional hand of Mr. Bruce Brummond.

Being one of the top two choirs chosen to perform from the Northwest, Concert Choir traveled to Wenatchee Apple Blossom Festival along with a double contest at Shoreline which resulted in high group ratings.

Amid the flow of melodious selections, CP's "Wire Choir," alias Orchestra, displayed numerous musical abilities throughout the year.

Ian MacDonald became the sole entry from Orchestra to perform in All Northwest Symphony, and also received entrance to the Tacoma Youth Symphony along with Wendy Dawson, Diane Tuttle, and Randy Halverson.

Pianist LuAnn Brown delicately "tickled the ivories" to assist in practice sectionals with endeavors to prepare soloists for concert and contest performances.

Stringed instruments strummed continuously as Orchestra traveled to a String Festival at Central Washington while a select ensemble performed at the Daffodil Princess selection.

CP Orchestra strives for musical perfection in concert performances

Opening a year full of concert performances, young violinists delight listeners at the Fall Concert.

Entertaining visitors to the Western Washington State Fair, the Clover Park Strings under the direction of Mr. Richard Dawson gather crowds during their afternoon concert as they demonstrate their new number.

Adding to the festive holiday spirit, harpist Wendy Dawson adds a soothing sound to the Clover Park Orchestra as they perform for the student body in the annual Christmas concert sponsored by the Music Dept.

Afro-American Club expands and Gospel Choir makes its appearance

Contemplating ideas formulated at a meeting, Afro-American Club Advisers Mrs. Christine Turner and Mr. Robert Fleming discuss future developments with President Stephanie Stevenson.

Decorating the display cases with cultural heritage and achievements, Afro-American Club members recognized January 24-28 as Black Awareness Week. Gospel Choir stemmed from the club and performed several tunes in the annual Variety Show.

With guidance from Advisers, Mr. Robert Fleming and Mrs. Christine Turner, the club sponsored a KTOY disco dance while Karen Compton represented the club as Afro-Princess to compete in the All-City Afro Queen Pageant.

Heading the group, President Stephanie Stevenson, Vice-President Nancy Smith, Treasurer/Secretary Ronata Fonville and Sergeant-at-Arms Eddie McDougal combined their leadership qualities to carry out club duties and responsibilities.

Meeting almost weekly, the Afro-American Club members and two advisers get together at a special meeting to discuss details of an All-City Afro Pageant, to be held at the end of March.

Princess Karen Compton listens intently to details about the Afro Pageant she will participate in.

Controversial issues, disputable ideas stimulate quarrelsome debaters

"Change! Reform! Our penal system must be improved!" Controversial issues and an endless array of topics provided the Debate Team with subject matter for involved discussions and advanced oratory skills.

Led by Mr. Warren Olson, the debaters attended their first tournament at Seattle U., in which novice debaters and eventsters gained experience in speaking competition.

Research, evidence-gathering and timed practices resulted in success as our tongued wizards traveled far and wide to test their wits and received trophies in this both educational and enjoyable process.

Affirmative or negative. Win or lose. It's what these debaters said that counted.

Pointing out that his ideas deal humanely with the controversial matter of penal reform, Ed Quisen-berry gestures to emphasize that the opposing team's philosophy stands on shaky ground.

Making use of the resources available, debater Salie Mungia prepares material needed for competition.

Providing reliable evidence to back up an important statement concerning her plan, Donna Sakson directs statistical data to confound her rivals, as partner Anna Mahan formulates strategic tactics.

Birth of club provides future homemakers with wisdom

A new club has been added to the ever-growing list of Clover Park's extra-curricular activities. It's the Future Homemakers of America Club advised by Miss Gail Berto.

Meeting every other Tuesday in the foods room, the group planned projects not only to promote the self improvement of club members but also to aid the school and community. A paper drive, a Prom Corsage Sale and an Arts and Crafts Workshop helped provide the needed funds to establish a treasury for the new club.

President Linda Watts headed the group with VP Debbie Cox close by her side. Other FHA officers include Rosetta McCaster, Tammy Petty and Colin McKee as secretary, treasurer and parliamentarian, respectively.

After successful execution of their paper drive, Future Homemakers, Collin McKee, Debbie Cox, and Linda Watts contemplate plans for future events, as they listen for ideas from other FHA members.

Addressing members of Clover Park High School's chapter of Future Homemakers of America, Home Ec teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Rowe and club adviser, Miss Gail Berto gives directions as they demonstrate how to make the Christmas decorations the group constructed during their festive December get-together.

With the sun on their shoulders, Glen Steeley and Debbie Blucher make their way through the forest during the club's week-end trip.

Hiking through beautiful country, Outdoor Rec Club members enjoy the magnificent sites, and experience the out-of-doors with other interested students.

CP Outdoor Recreation Club hold innertubing and snowshoeing outing

Off into the wild blue yonder, Ms. Debra Collins and energetic Clover Park students undertook many adventurous activities with the Outdoor Recreation Club.

The group participated in excursions as well as coordinating some of their activities to various abilities. They began with horseback riding, ice skating and snowshoeing, then cross country or downhill skiing and finished the year off with bicycling and a weekend beach hike.

As the largest school organization, Outdoor Ed. grows with the planning of every trip. A membership fee gave all interested students an opportunity to experience the out-of-doors with others and a sure guarantee of fun.

Taking advantage of the great Northwestern environment in which they live, members of the Outdoor Recreation Club prepare their mid-day meal as they look forward to the food cooked over a camp fire.

Money-making projects successful; display originality of Art Club members

Brightening halls of local elementary schools and hospitals, Art Club displayed their artistic talents throughout the year. Sponsoring the annual Pumpkin Carving Contest proved to be the club's initial service project, with uniquely-sculptured pumpkins being donated to childrens' wards in several area hospitals.

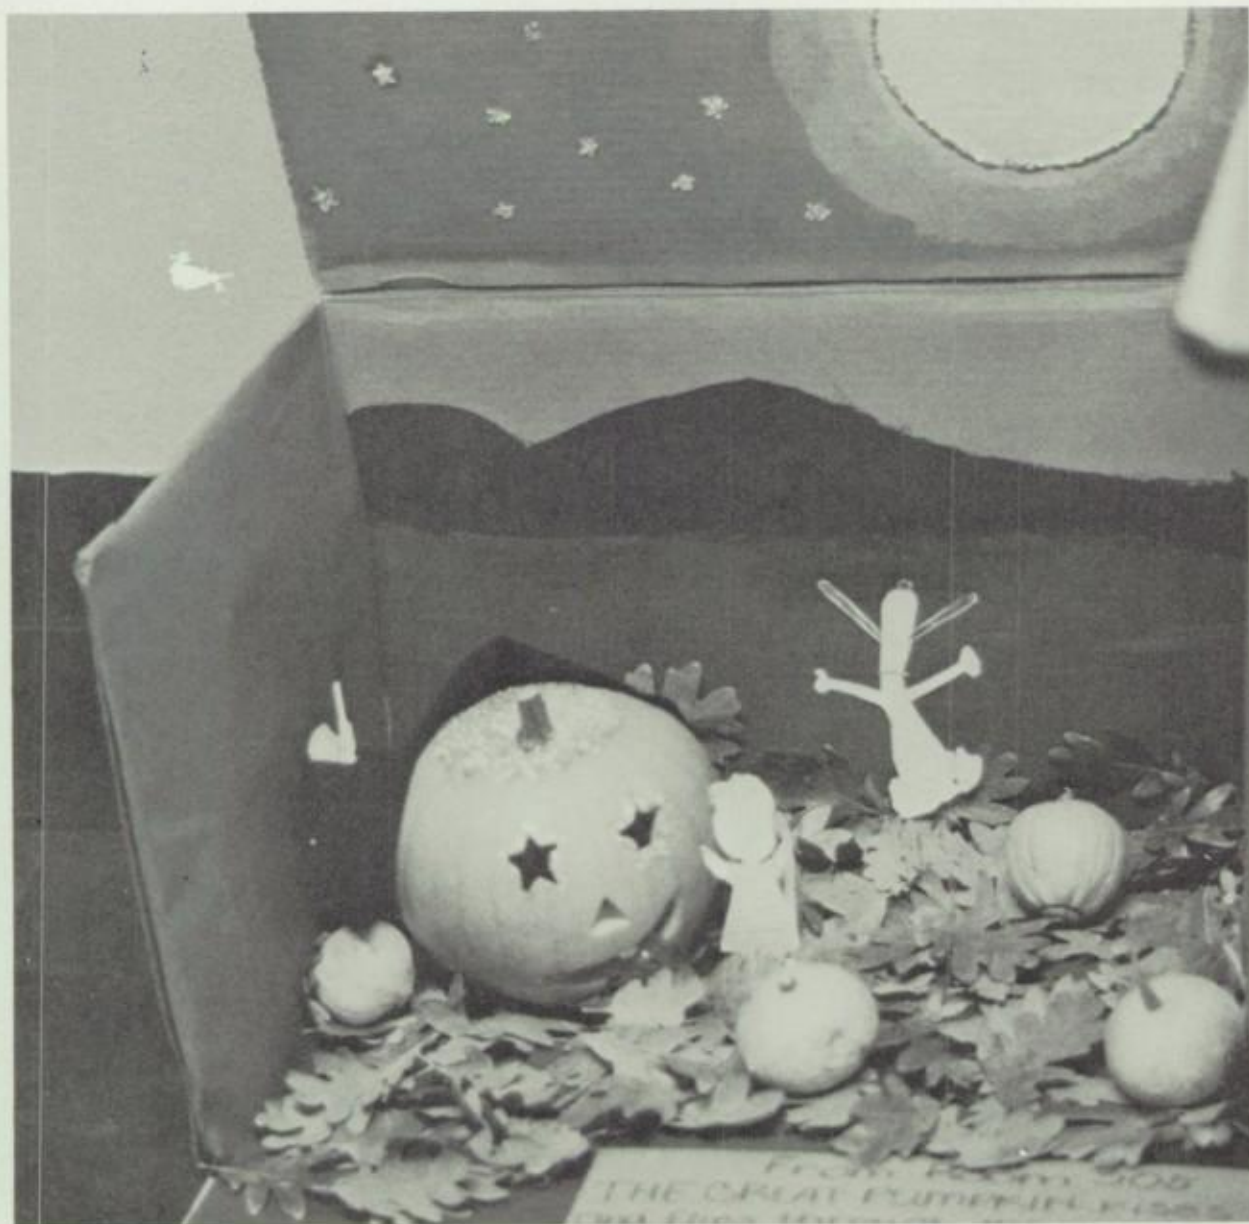

Creatively painting windows with Christmas cheer, earned the club money to fund field trips to art shows and museums. Other money-making projects included selling silk screen designs for tee-shirts and painting graphics for Beachwood Elementary School.

Club members also participated in an exchange day with Lakes High School Art Club for an enriching experience in Clover Park's world of art.

Organizing themselves for the Art Club sponsored T-shirt silk screening, Mr. Michael Topolski, and active club members Margaret Clapp and Tami Skala, carry out the artist's money making project.

Displaying Halloween spirit, CP's Art Club sponsored their annual pumpkin carving contest, drawing enteries from artistic individuals as well as jack-o-lanterns from first period classrooms.

Attending a projects meeting, art clubbers Vickie Anderson and Dawnetta Wyman discuss a problem.

Weekly meetings held by Key Club, a new male service organization, led to discussions and plans on methods to aid both the school and the surrounding community.

While providing entertainment at convalescent centers, they also accompanied special education students to basketball games and acted as Guardian Angels for girls' winter and spring sporting events.

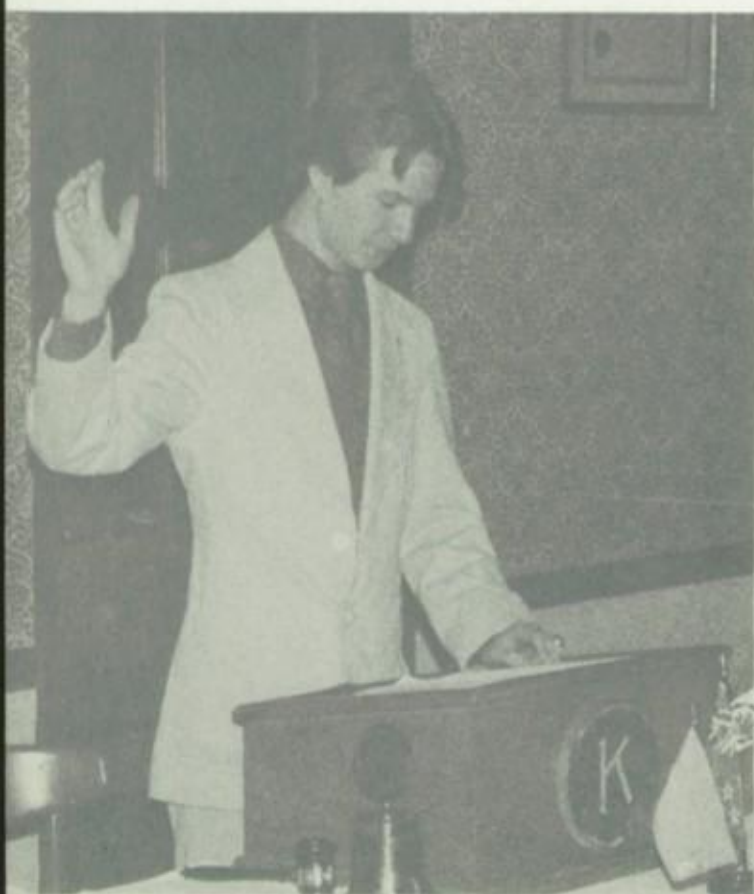

Other activities included patrolling fences at football games, guarding doors at basketball games and collecting donations for Operation Birthright for the March of Dimes.

Club members held a banquet in order to welcome all the initiates and six elected Keyhearts - two girl representatives from each class.

Industrious Honor Society raises money; presents school with gift

Addressing Honor Society members, club president, Marilyn Young announces upcoming activities.

Bustling members of Clover Park's Chapter of the National Honor Society occupied the '76-'77 school year through participation in many enterprising activities, which upheld the club's tradition as service-oriented.

These included a Halloween drive for UNICEF, the annual candy bar sale, sprucing up reader board letters, polishing Warrior trophies and inspiring Val-O-Gram on February 4th.

According to President Marilyn Young, money raised would benefit CP in a gift presented at year's end.

Membership increased above and beyond past years, as those obtaining a 3.167 grade point average and above plus recommendations from four faculty members received a letter of invitation to join.

Earning valuable service points for Honor Society, Diane Guttormsen rejuvenates reader board letters.

Reviewing Honor Society's agenda, Debbie Blucher, and Diane Guttormsen discuss future club plans.

Dedicating themselves to Clover Park's appearance, Honor Society members, Bob Sargent, Anna

Mahan and Donna Sakson join to polish the trophies displayed in the South Building entrance hall.

Richard Stumpf chosen Chess Club President; leads team to success

From beginner to expert, anyone who had an interest in skills of the mind could sign up for Chess Club, and eventually become a member of the team through a series of challenges against one another.

An after school activity, Chess Club and Chess Team gave players an opportunity to show and improve their existing powers of chess.

With Adviser Mr. Harold Roberts, who led all group functions, Senior Richard Stumpf held the position of club president and also received recognition as second best player in the Clover Park School District.

Chess matches included competition which varies from minutes to hours in time, their best win being over Bethel with a 4-1 major decision.

Chess team member Gary Smith contemplates the next move toward a victory over his Wilson opponent, Clover Park offers both a chess club as a hobby, and a chess team as a competitive team sport.

In deep concentration during a chess match, Pat Farrell ponders on where to make his next move.

As the seconds rapidly tick away, chess team member, Jack Blaylock, strategically reflects upon possible winning moves which will eventually result in the defeat of his Wilson opponent.

Presenting Co-adviser, Mr. Richard Cambridge with honorary membership to Clover Park's Thespian Troupe 821, President Richard Pichler congratulates him on having received the hard earned honor.

Thespians initiate new members and perform in a series of plays

"Act your part well, for there all the honor lies." Backed by this motto, Thespians of 1976-77 began their season of theatricals under the direction and cues of Mrs. Virginia Heidbreder.

After obtaining ten points by directing, attending, producing or acting in a play, seventeen initiated new members brought fresh ideas and personalities to Troupe 521.

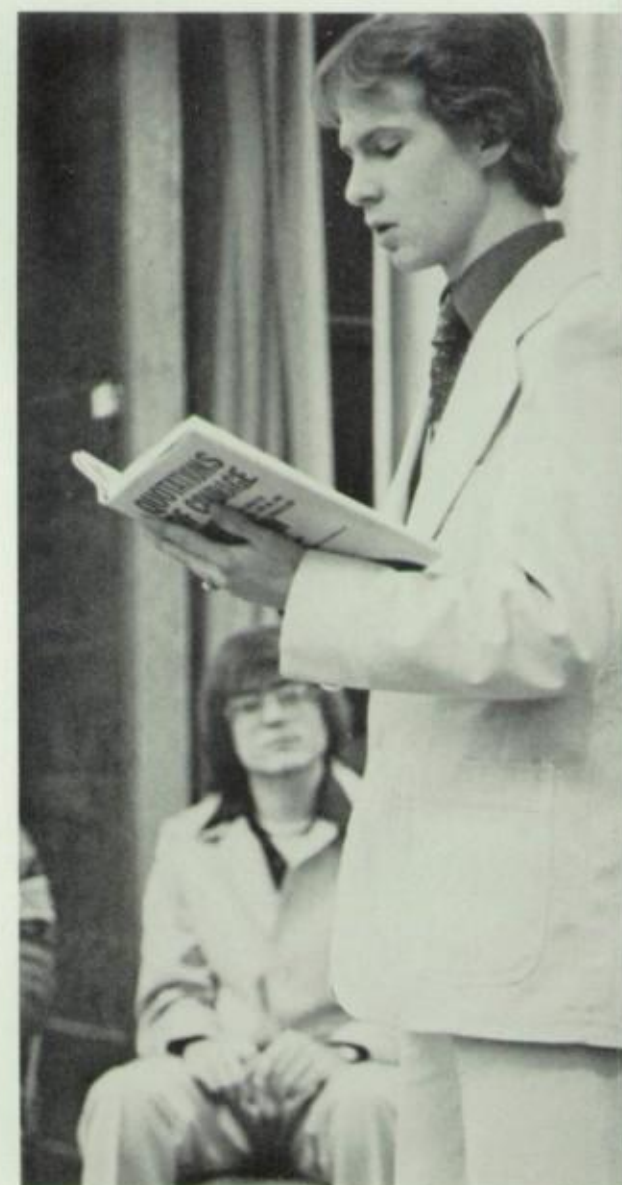

The group put on a "One Act Play Festival," held over a period of three days, and concluded with a presentation of the best two out of seven plays on the final evening.

In discovering foreign cultural background, Thespian members choose France to relate information to all guests attending the year-end banquet.

Proudly accepting recognition, Thespian initiates, Eileen Hearon, Sue Manning and Roberta Casper, take part in the annual initiation dinner night as they take the Thespian pledge and become members.

Giving examples of speech, senior Thespian Mike Courts addresses Troupe members at a Thespian dinner.

SENIOR CLASS

Class of 1977 graduates first in third century; bids CP farewell

"When you walk through a storm, hold your head up high, and don't be afraid of the dark..." In silent meditation of past accomplishments and future goals, Seniors marched forward on June 14 to receive diplomas during commencement ceremonies for the graduating class of 1977.

Dave Pritchard served as class president for two consecutive years and supplied group unity while Susan Talbert initiated new concepts of leadership for this year's seniors.

With balloons, banners and speeches, last year's mock political convention led up to the 1977 national elections which broadened student knowledge of politics and provided involvement.

For two years, the class of '77 sponsored the Hawaiian Luau which included dinner and entertainment and an additional Spirit Week provided amusing displays of school participation.

Mark Sabo received recognition as Tolo King; Catherine Drake reigned with the title of Daffodil Princess; Stephanie Stevenson accepted Klahowya Queen honors.

Seniors experienced a first in CP history as Warrior pigskin runners traveled to State AAA football play-offs and advanced to quarter-final showdowns while the girls' basketball squad topped third in league standings and snagged a playoff berth triumph against Sumner.

Highlighting the sports' scene, wrestling matmen captured SPSL championship title and ranked high in tournament action.

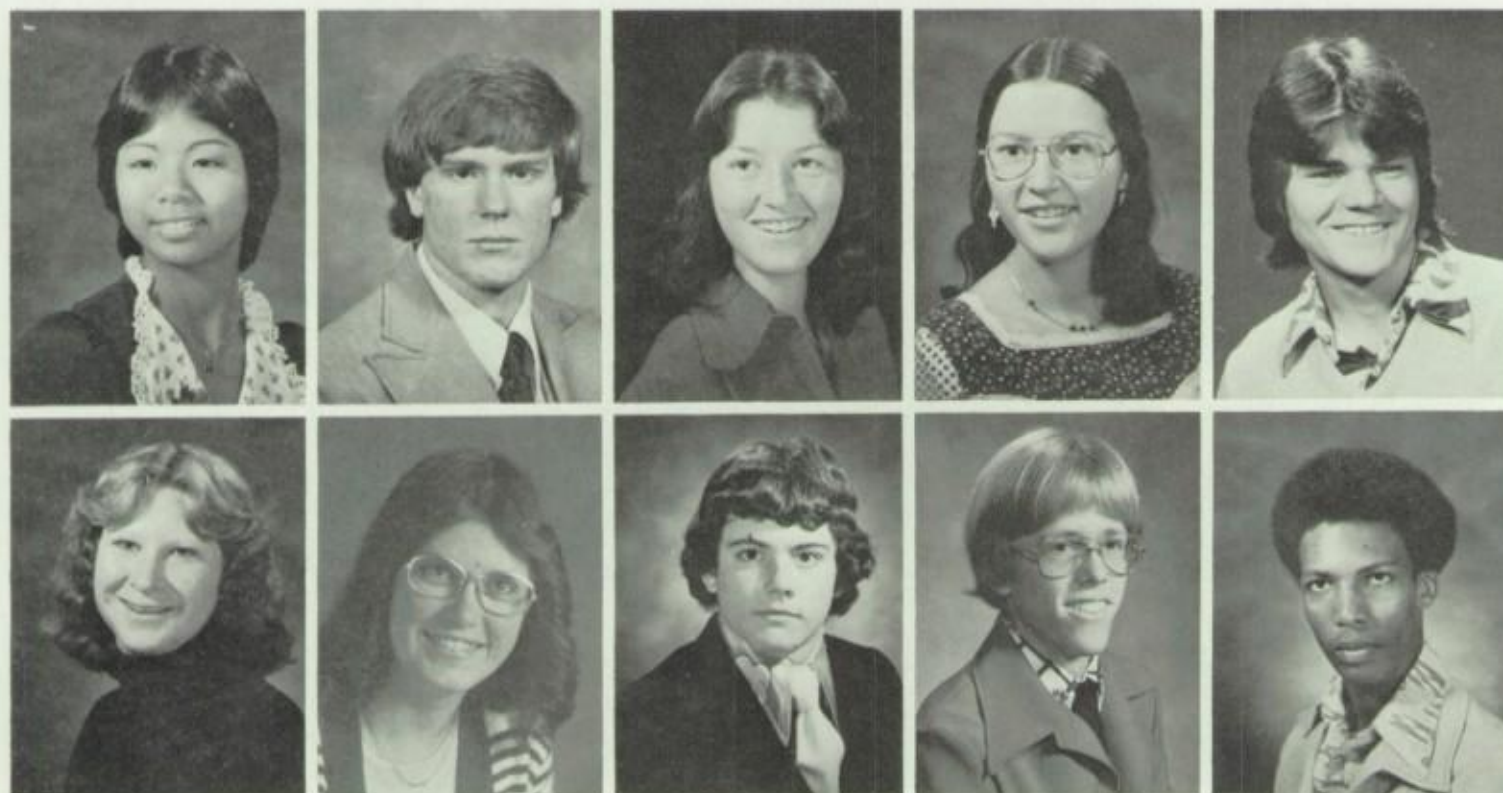

Leaving the crowded corridors and active classrooms of Clover Park, upper-classmen scanned sun rays of yesterday, and looked toward horizons of tomorrow with bounteous hopes of today, forever "Searching."

Showing superior strength and prowess in wrestling techniques, Senior Dave Wheeler, competing at 122 weight class, drives his Roger's opponent to the Warrior mat, grappling him to a near side cradle, then clinching his hold for a CP pin which chalked up another six points in a 42-15 wrestling victory.

Junior Class of '78

Congratulations from the Class of '79
to the Class of '77

We are the people of Clover Park... the individuals.
We are searching to find answers to questions that concern each of us.
Every day our reactions change, being bartered by different viewpoints. Each of us has a dream, a plan, or a hope for the future, but at the same time, we dress alike, cut our hair the same, and do similiar things, however we think differently, for our ideals, tastes and personalities vary from one to another.
Although we may play, dance,
and sing together,
each of us needs to remember to stand alone, for we must keep searching to fulfill our dreams, in order that oneness becomes togetherness.

"Searching" completed, editors enjoy regained freedom

Surrounded in a jungle of 3-R forms, proofs and pictures, Klahowya Editors, Sonja Stevenson and Ann Henley compare layout ideas as they work to complete the final pages of "Searching."

Klahowya- the combining of an entire year's activities into a single book.

The familiar will not be forgotten. Familiar was the walk from class to class. The locker combination may be forgotten, but not the people around it. Nor will you forget the halls of CP and the lunchtime rushes, the extra-curricular activities, and sporting events- these are familiar and they are the memories which combine to complete our story of CP.

With the cooperation of a willing staff, uncountable hours were spent after class preparing "Searching" for its debut. While choosing the appropriate theme and ingredients, we tried to present high school life in the most realistic manner possible. As the editors we found ourselves pressured to keep Klahowya quality yet stay within our allotted budget. The patience of our Adviser, Mr. Donald Turya pulled us through when our job got hectic and headaches mounted. We owe a special thanks to both Mr. Turya and our American Yearbook Company representative, Mr. Jim Palm. Thank you to all of our friends who have helped us to complete our year of editorship- God bless you one and all.

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the cold. It was a sharp contrast to the heat of the car. I shivered and pulled my coat tighter around me. The air was crisp and clear, a welcome change from the stuffy interior. I took a deep breath and felt a sense of relief. The world outside was so different from the one inside.
 I had never felt so alive before.

The second thing I noticed was the silence. It was a deep, quiet silence that filled the air. I had never experienced such a stillness before. It was like a blanket, soft and comforting. I closed my eyes and let the silence wash over me. For a moment, I was alone in the world.

Mr. Brodin,
You have got to be one of the best teachers in the school.
I learned more than just drafting in your class. I appreciate it and thank you.
Early in the year I was doughtful when I saw those years, but was still looking forward to it. You got me through the whole year fifth period, except for a few days.
Sorry I'm moving, I'll miss your class next year.

Enjoy your Next 2 years of Teaching

Pete Newton

MR. BROBIN,

I don't know where to begin to tell you how much you have taught not only about art, & history but the whole importance of Education. Your classes were really fun, and I thank you most of all with helping with my posters because without your advice, & teaching I could have never won. You are the greatest & best Art teacher, & teacher I have ever have. When I am a teacher I will think back about you. Will be back to see ya before (my) school starts!

Love, Helen "77"

Dear Mr. Brodin -
I'm glad that you are a good teacher and very smart and I learned a lot. Thank you!
Love,
Doreen Peters

Mr. Brodin,

Well the year is almost to an end,
and I really enjoyed your class. I feel you have taught me a great deal
and I will give what I have learned for the rest of my life. I hope you have the greatest summer and maybe I'll see ya sometime.

Patty

Mr. Brodin, I have a great & great & had year, and so much great learned intelligent person, never a very smart and tell how much you learned & how of your joke. I did and screw the last lesson of no great though I did you even great though I did you the year. I'm sorry to see you the year.

Mr. Brodin

Mr. Bradin,

I had gone through all of C.P. art classes trying to learn & gather all the knowledge I could. The only problem was that I wasn't learning anything, until I took one of your classes. It wasn't what you taught or what you said but rather in the way you cared for the young students in your classes. I not only learned a lot more in one trimester from you than I had in 2 years of ART ~~from~~ but I also learned a great deal about life, about the world & people who live on her. For this I am forever grateful.

P.S.

I would of never won any poster contest without your guidance & suggestions.

Thanks & Love, to

My favorite teacher,

Cleo Joe Garcia

THANKS

Mr. Bradin,
I had a really only was it fun but I even learned some things.
you'll be seeing me for 2 more years, a hopefully and thanks for being a great teacher and friend.

Love,
Marita

Mr. Bradin,

I want to thank you again for giving me another chance I enjoyed your class, and you inspired me to improve my life.
Take care of your-self and don't get any
